LECTURES - DESCRIPTION

1 LINGUISTICS – GRAMMAR – PHILOLOGY

2 SOURCES AND PROPERTIES OF HUMAN LANGUAGE

Features of language – productivity, duality, arbitrariness, discreteness, interchangeability, displacement; cultural transmission, freedom from stimulus control, spoken and written forms of language (biological, historical, functional, structural priorities of the spoken form).

3 LANGUAGE AS A SYSTEM OF SIGNS AND ITS STRUCTURE

Linguistic sign, Saussure's approach, features of linguistic sign – arbitrariness, discontinuity, and linearity, Ogden & Richard's semiotic triangle (signification, designation, denotation), difference between the denotative and the connotative meanings (factors affecting connotation – territorial, social, stylistic, temporal), Peirce's approach to sign, type – token relation.

4 FUNCTIONS OF LANGUAGE

5 LANGUAGE LEVELS; PHONETICS AND PHONOLOGY

The position of phonetics and phonology in the system. Phonology – phoneme, four different approaches to the notion of phoneme (mentalistic [ideal sound], physical [family of sounds with phonetic similarity and complementary distribution], functional view [distinctive features], abstract view [morphological alternations, distribution]). Trubetzkoy's theory of oppositions, distinctive features, permanent features and neutralizable features; facultative and combinatory variants, binary principle, marked vs. unmarked; kinds of opposition the notion of archiphoneme.

6 MORPHOLOGY

The place of morphology within the system, interfaces, units of morphology, the definition of morpheme, phonologically conditioned allomorphs, umlaut (i-umlaut, palatal umlaut) – its historical sources, and the ModE remnants, portmanteau morphs, zero morpheme, empty morph, diamorph, suppletion, the problem of cranberry morphs, inflectional and derivational morphemes – differences, functions, types of derivational morphems, affixes, prefixes, suffixes, infixes, transfixes, circumfixes; interfixes. Morphological models. Categories, the ontological and the syntactic bases for the delimitation of word-classes, classification of word-classes (Plato and Aristotle (Adj in Verbs) vs. Alexandrians (Adj in nouns), the notion of categorial transition, conversion, vague boundary between verbs and adjectives.

Word-formation, relationship between word-formation and inflectional morphology, semasiological and onomasiological methods and their objectives, terminology, synchronic and diachronic methods., the notion of WF syntagma, moneme, determinant-determinatum, zero-morpheme, Word-formation processes, compounding, types of compounds, prefixation, suffixation, infixation, conversion, back-formation, blending; the status of acronyms, clippings, and borrowings; word-manufacture, calques Lexical level, structural relations among lexical units – hyponymy, polysemy, homonymy, antonymy, synonymy, lexical (semantic) fields, semantic changes (specialization (restriction) and generalization (extension) of meaning, transfer of meaning (metaphor, metonymy).

7 LEXICAL LEVEL

8 SYNTACTIC LEVEL

Functional Sentence Perspective, Theme, Rheme, Transition (temporal and modal exponents of the verb), communicative dynamism, the role of context, articles, subjective and objective ordering of T and R; FSP and word-order, passive constructions, emotive principle and word-order.

TG grammar – its basic features – mentalistic, universal rules, competence of an ideal speaker-hearer, performance, rules of generation of sentences, mathematical methods – formalization, description of phrase structure, IC, ultimate constituents, bracketing and structural ambiguity, rewrite rules, tree diagram, branch, node, phrase-marker as a labeled bracketing associated with the terminal string, kernel string and kernel sentence, definition of the kernel sentence, transformation rules, deep and surface structure.

9 DEVELOPMENT OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE

Development of the English grammar system from the synthetic to the analytical type of language: analytic trends, word-order, Possessive Case and its adjectivization, the status of word in Modern English – a vague boundary between word and word-group, comparison of the function of affixes in English and Slovak

10 LANGUAGE TYPOLOGY AND UNIVERSALS

SEMINARS

Class time will be spent working through students' responses to various questions related to lectures as well as to the texts students will be asked to read before attending class. Topics of the seminars will follow the content of the Introduction to Linguistics. A practical Coursebook.

You should also read the rest of the chapters from your coursebook to be prepared for the final exam. Should you come across anything you wish to discuss, 3 weeks of tutorials during the semester are reserved for this very purpose.

Every student MUST have their own copy of O'Driscoll's book. All the other materials and assignments for home study will be available online at:

If you have any questions, do not hesitate to talk to your instructors before or after classes or during office hours. When asking emailing us, please keep in mind that in addition to teaching and preparing for classes, we have many other duties which make it impossible for us to check our emails constantly and to reply within 24 hours. Before asking a question related to the organisation of the course, assessment etc., make sure it has not already been answered on the department website, in the course syllabus or in class.

Spôsob hodnotenia a skončenia štúdia predmetu: Hodnotenie

Priebežné hodnotenie (napr. test, samostatná práca...):

- Attendance - students are expected to attend each class according to the schedule. They must be present on tests.
- Active participation, completed homework assignments - students are required to do their best with respect to active participation in seminar sessions. They are to bring their own copies of the required materials and complete the assigned tasks and exercises.
- CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT – Language skills 1 (LS1) as a subject comprises 4 parts (1-grammar, 2- listening, 3- reading, 4- vocabulary) . Students will take 2 credit tests from each part. The tests will have THREE parts - reading and vocabulary (combined), listening and grammar. The dates of the tests are set in the schedule. All students HAVE to be present at tests. At the end of the semester, within each part of the three LS tests separately, your partial scores will be calculated based on the results of partial credit tests. In order to pass one part of LS, you need to score 65% minimum as a SUM of both partial credit tests.

Záverečné hodnotenie (napr. skúška, záverečná práca...):

The student will receive final credits when getting minimum 65% for each of the three parts of LS1 (grammar; listening; reading + vocabulary). In such case the final credits will be calculated as an average of all percentage results (65% and more) from all LS1 parts. If students fail ONE part of LS1, they fail the WHOLE subject and cannot receive any credits. There will not be any re-take tests for those who failed to achieve the pass level.

FINAL EVALUATION :

A 100 - 93%

B 92 - 86%

C 85 - 78%

D 77 - 72%

E 71 - 65%

FX 64 and less

Should you have any questions on the above explained forms of assessment, address them to your individual lecturer at the beginning of the semester.

Ciel predmetu: The course builds upon the students' prior knowledge of British history and literature and tries not only to revise this knowledge but also to put it into a broader cultural context. Proceeding chronologically from the period of English Renaissance, we shall focus on how the political and social situation of the time has been reflected in (not only) visual art and in cultural production of the time, taking British literature as a starting point. The students shall therefore be asked to revise selected chapters of British history and literature for each topic. This revision will be followed by reading materials that deal specifically with mostly visual art and culture of the time. This theoretical knowledge will then be applied to specific examples art and culture that may serve as a source of information not only about the artistic values of the society of the time but also about its norms, values and institutions.

Learning Outcomes:

By the end of this course, student will be able to:

- Identify some of the most significant works of British art
- Understand the connections between historical background and cultural development of the respective periods
- Identify main ideas and arguments in the texts assigned for home preparation
- Apply this theoretical knowledge to the analysis of works of art and culture and make their own analysis of a selected work of art based on the theories studied throughout the semester
- Students would also improve the transferable skills of summarising texts they have read, understanding knowledge gained in the classroom, understanding and applying it in the form of a presentation

Stručná osnova predmetu:

2. English Renaissance
3. Commonwealth, Puritanism, Restoration
4. Neo-Classicism, English School of Art

Detailed Description of Classes:

As part time students, you only have a very small number of contact classes compared to your full time students. That means that vast majority of your studies should be done on individual basis between sessions. To help you study continuously, develop the same skills as full time students and to reduce the heavy workload assigned for individual sessions, this course will combine contact hours with online classes. I therefore ask you to take the online part of the course seriously, as it is designed to help you study more efficiently.

The following section of this syllabus contains the list of our in class sessions as well as online “sessions”. In practice, this means that almost every week (exact dates and topics are all listed in the syllabus) you will be asked to read one or two texts, or possibly watch a film, revise certain topics from literature and history and then fill in an online quiz and submit your answers. I will then grade your quizzes and enter the points into AIS (Continuous assessment).

The questions will be closed as well as open and should be used as a study guide for you when reading the texts and revising the information from previous courses that is closely connected to the topic of visual art and culture. Naturally, these will be open book quizzes and you are free to use the texts and your notes. There will be no one to check that you are not cooperating with your colleagues, of course. That is why I trust your personal integrity and understanding that filling in the quizzes on your own will ultimately help you to pass the in-class written exam (session 2) and prepare a good final presentation (session 3).

You will be sent the link to each quiz on Thursday morning to your personal email and will have time until Sunday midnight to complete the task. Therefore, you will have enough time to do so at your leisure, after your working hours. Should your internet connection fail, no excuses will be accepted. In 4 days, you will have enough time to fix the problem, go to a place with a working internet connection etc. The only problem may arise from your postponing the task to the last minute. Therefore, no excuses for failing to complete online tasks will be accepted. If you fail to submit a quiz on time, the penalty will be getting 0 points.

IN-CLASS SESSIONS:

16.2. 2013 SESSION 1: Course Introduction (3 classes)

Content: defining culture and art, the concept of national culture, British culture and stereotypes, cultural literacy

We will discuss our understanding of the terms ‘art’ and ‘culture’ and try to come up with our own definitions. Then we will think about the term ‘national’ culture and British culture in particular and see how we each understand these notions and what concepts and stereotypes we associate with being British. Our next task will be to try to clarify the term ‘art’ and how we understand it in relation to culture. Throughout this course, we will also be working on improving certain skills that may be useful in broader context. This lesson will focus on summarising texts and presenting these summaries to others, which will later be applied in individual presentations.

Reading (in class):

- Arnold, D.: Art History. A Very Short Introduction. Oxford: OUP, 2004. Chapter 1

13.4. 2013 SESSION 2: Written Exam; Analysis of visual images (4 classes)

Content: applying the theoretical background studied and revised at home to selected visual images, discussing final presentations, written exam

17.5. 2013 SESSION 3: Final Presentations (4 classes)

Content: each student will give their final presentation. For detailed instructions, please see the document entitled “Final presentation and evaluation-part time” on the ffweb.

HOME PREPARATION, ONLINE CLASSES and ONLINE QUIZZES:

21. – 24.2. 2013 English Renaissance

Content: Renaissance, Reformation, portrait painting, Tudors and the Golden Age

In this class, we will compare the understanding of arts and the role of artists in ancient, medieval and Renaissance society and discuss how and why Renaissance came to be a defining turning point for European culture and how our awareness of this period has been shaped by its presentation in the media.

Revision: Tudor England (history), Elizabethan and Tudor Literature (literature)

Reading:

- <http://www.arthistory.sbc.edu/artartists/ancmed.html>
- <http://www.arthistory.sbc.edu/artartists/renaissance.html>

Presentation(s): compare the position of art and artist in ancient, medieval and Renaissance society.

28.2 – 3.3. 2013 Commonwealth and Restoration

Content: Charles I and Baroque portrait, art and culture of the Commonwealth, Restoration

This class will focus on the reflection of the changing social and political situation in the period art, particularly the portrait painting. We will discuss how portraits of monarchs and other influential figures reflected their ambitions and served as a message for the others. Applying our theoretical knowledge to analysing specific works of art, we will move on to discuss the form of the final presentation and its evaluation criteria.

Revision: Stuarts (history), 17th century and Restoration literature (literature)

Reading:

- Sharpe, K. ‘Portrait of an Age’. In History Today, March 2009, pp. 6-7.
- Skeaping, L. ‘All singing, all dancing’. In History Today, February 2010, pp. 18-24.

7. – 10.3. 2013 Neo-Classicism, English School of Art

Content: The Age of Reason, Enlightenment, the rise of middle classes, satire, journalism
Neo-Classical art and culture in general marked a shift in topics, styles and target audience for writers and visual artists alike. Using our knowledge of neo-classical literature as a starting point, we will analyse several paintings of the so called English School to see how similar principles were applied in visual arts. Since this period also marked the birth of journalism and regular newspapers, we will compare some of those with our current notions of what a newspaper is.

Revision: Neoclassical prose and poetry (literature)

Reading:

Presentation(s): compare Hogarth's and Reynolds' attitudes to art (themes and genres they preferred) and the education and training of young artists

14. – 17.3. 2013 Georgian Era

Content: architecture, domestic life, Regency

This period in British art history will give us an opportunity to pay more attention to architecture. We will look back on how architectural styles evolved but will also discuss the less visible aspects of this topic, including the notion of domesticity and the organisation of domestic life.

Revision: Jane Austen (literature), Hanoverians (history)

Chapter 5

21. – 24.3. 2013 Romanticism, Landscape

Content: changing perception of nature, topography, history painting

Our discussion of Romantic painting will focus on the development of this genre and primarily on comparing 2 most significant English landscape painters, trying to identify their different aims and understanding of their work. We will also cover the genre of history painting, its connection to landscape in the works of Turner and discuss the reasons for its prominent status in this particular period in history.

Revision: Industrial Revolution, Victorian Britain (history),

Reading:

- Wilton, A.: Five Centuries of British Painting. From Holbein to Hodgkin. London: Thames and Hudson, 2002. Chapter 6 – Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood

Presentation(s): old vs. new in Victorian Britain in terms of visual art, architecture and way of thinking

25. – 28.4. 2013 20th Century Art and Culture

Content: wars and their reflection in art and culture, wartime speeches

When preparing for this class you will, for a change, be asked to watch a film depicting WWI from perhaps a less usual point of view. This will enable us to see connection between art and war and to compare the artists' reactions to the so called Great War with previous eras. Analysis of war posters will give us an opportunity to see how visual culture was put to use during the 2 world wars and how the focus and themes of the official propaganda changed.

Revision: WWI

Film:

- Regeneration (1997)

Presentation(s): the impact of WWI on art in general and the attitudes of the 2 poets depicted in this film towards war and towards writing about the war

2. – 5. 5. 2013 Contemporary Art and Culture

Content: Young British Artists, conceptual art, new media

During this class, we will return to our initial definitions of what art means and will compare these with the theories discussed in the reading that try to respond to current styles and trends. Specific examples will include paintings, installations and other forms of art by contemporary British artists. Again, we will see how the understanding of art, artist and their role has been evolving.

Students are required to attend classes regularly and to prepare for each class in advance. Active participation is a must. After the first week no more than two absences will be allowed. Should a student come to class without proper home preparation (learning new vocabulary, reading required articles, etc.) he/she will be considered absent from this class.

There will be 9 online (open-book) quizzes which students will be required to complete on a weekly basis prior to coming to class (as specified by instructor). 10 more points will be awarded for active participation. This will add up to a total of 100 points. The grading scale will be as follows: A [100-93], B [92-86], C [85-78], D [77-72], E [71-65], FX [64-0].

Záverečné hodnotenie (napr. skúška, záverečná práca...):

Ciel predmetu:

Course will relate to the students the mass media in the United States: their brief history, their role, the ways they work, their impact and other issues involved. Students will be encouraged to use this theoretical background knowledge to analyze media performance and to become critical observers of the media business.

Please, understand that although I require a good deal (and I will under no condition alter my requirements), I will not hesitate to give you my best. Also, I am here to help you so in case you have questions or are unsure about anything class-related (e.g. my rules) feel free to come and see me during my office hours (available on the web) or contact me via email. Finally, be ready to speak up. Active participation is required in class to make the time enjoyable for all of us. Even more importantly, class discussions will help us clear out confusing concepts and will bring in many great ideas in addition to helping you remember the subject matter much better. And even if your ideas aren't always great, don't worry. That is all a part of the learning process.

Stručná osnova predmetu:

Ciel predmetu:

Considering the fact that most of the courses take a rather anglocentric point of view, it is necessary to introduce other issues and make the students aware of regional diversity of Britain. A single course is not sufficient to cover such a broad topic, therefore, Regions of the UK focus on Scotland as one of the regions. By covering a variety of topics similar to those already known to students primarily from the Introduction to British Studies, this course shall try to elicit a discussion about similarities and differences, encouraging students to contribute their own findings and areas of interest.

Stručná osnova predmetu:

Topics:

Regions of the UK

Introduction to Scottish Studies (Chapter 1)

Introduction to Scottish History (Chapters 2, 3)

Education and Religion (Chapters 5, 6)

Scottish Parliament; Law (Chapters 7, 10)

Scotland's Languages (Chapter 9)

The Contexts of Modern Scottish Literature (Chapter 11)

Visual Arts and Architecture; Music (Chapters 12, 14)

Media (Chapter 13)
