University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KAaA/ ACW1m/15	Course name: Language Skills - Academic Writing
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 1.
Course level: II.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Attendance and Participation: You may miss one class without penalty. If you miss two or more, you will fail the course. If you are repeatedly late, you will not be allowed to complete the course. You are expected to contribute to the class discussion and to provide insightful comments on the readings and on your classmates' work. I will lower your grade by one letter if you are consistently silent, disengaged, or unprepared. Drafts, Deadlines, and Late Work: Throughout the course, I will encourage you to write multiple drafts of each paper. Writing multiple drafts will improve your writing and take some of the stress out of the final deadline. Ideally, you will have a well developed rough draft well before the deadline, so you should always be able to get something in. Your work will be read and critiqued by your fellow classmates, so please make your drafts as complete as possible and come prepared for a lively discussion. Late work will not be accepted. If any draft or paper is late, you will fail the entire course. Continuous Assessment: You will write two short papers, three pages each, and one long paper of at least eight pages. A page means approximately 330 words. Assignment descriptions are posted on ffweb. The final paper may be a revision of one of the short papers. For each paper, I will break down your overall grade into four categories: Concept, Structure, Language, and Documentation. On your final paper, if you receive an FX in any one of these four categories, you will fail the course. Any paper not properly documented will receive an FX overall. It breaks down like this: Paper 1 25% A 93-100% Paper 2 25% B 86-92% Paper 3 50% C 78-85% D 72-77% E 65-71%
Learning outcomes: To teach grammatical and rhetorical forms, improve students' research and analytical skills, and clarify the conventions of academic discourse with special emphasis on developing a thesis which is complex enough to sustain a graduate level paper.

Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 1.
Course level: II.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: "Students are expected to attend all classes and to view all required films, to be punctual and attentive, and to participate vigorously but politely in discussions of films and readings. The participation grade is based on attendance and a demonstrated engagement with the course material. Assessment and evaluation: 1. 30% Attendance and active participation 2. 50% Presentation 3. 20% Quick terminology test 1. Active participation, completed homework assignments: (30% of final grade) Students are required to do their best with respect to active participation in seminar sessions. Students are expected to bring their own ANNOTATED copies of the required materials, complete the assigned tasks and exercises and participate in class discussions. Students are required to work with Moodle and download the required materials from there. Every student is responsible for their access of the system and should be able to log into Moodle no later than by WEEK 3. Students may at any point during the semester ask about their current score in active participation and may ask for extra assignments if unable to speak in the class. 2. Presentation: (50% of final grade) Students will be asked to give a group presentation which will aim to compare and contrast an English literature text and its movie adaptation. All the requirements for the presentation will be specified during the introductory class and a sample presentation will be given in WEEK 5. Students must NOT read their presentations, but must be ready to speak in their own words. Each member of the group will receive the same number of points, so students are advised to cooperate closely. Students are to prepare discussion points for their fellow colleagues. 4. A quick terminology test (20% of final grade) will be taken in WEEK 5 and will check students' ability to understand literary and film terms. These terms are essential for our in-class discussions and presentations. There are no retakes of the test."
Learning outcomes: This course aims at analyzing chosen texts from English literature from the unlikely point of adaptation. In comparing texts and their adaptations, students will expand their existing textual analysis skills, explore the dialogue among multiple iterations of a single story. Course activities promote active learning, with most class sessions incorporating a mix of discussion, mini-lectures, and group work.

Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: II.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Conditions of continuous control: during the semester a student is continuously assessed according to his/her activity in seminars. To be awarded the credits for the semester, a student must attend the seminars successfully. Assessment in seminars is conditioned by obtaining the respective number of points (1 point is awarded for active participation). Writing and understanding of assigned texts is checked in seminars in the form of written assignment.
Learning outcomes: The aim of the course is to make students familiar with philosophical thinking of "deconstruction", which wants to be neither a method nor a discourse on the method or a tool of approach to history of philosophy. Students have a chance to be informed about perception of philosophy or history of philosophy as the deconstruction of this history, i.e. with perception of history as the critique of ideology of (traditional) perception of history, which makes basis for the present time.

Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 1.
Course level: II.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Class attendance Students are expected to attend each class according to the schedule. Transfers among the groups are not possible. In case you miss one class you are required to excuse your absence with a valid doctor's certificate. In case you miss more than two classes, you will not receive credits for the course. You must be on time for class. Should you miss the first ten minutes of a particular seminar session your presence in the class will not count. Preparation Students are expected to make their own copies of the required materials and complete the assigned tasks and exercises. Should you fail to bring your own copy of the required study materials or a completed home assignment for a particular seminar, your presence in class will not count. If you arrange with the tutor in advance not to attend a class session, you will be expected to submit any assignment on the subsequent session. Assessment During the course there will be two credit tests. A 100-93, B 92-86, C 85-78, D 77-72, E 71-65, FX 64-0 Only those students are eligible to enroll for the final oral exam, who achieve at least 65 points from the two credit tests. The oral exam is composed of two parts: Part1: Presentation of a seminar project based on the recommended literature list and analysis of teaching practice. 0-5 points for professional application of theoretical knowledge of TEFL methodology during teaching practice 0-5 points for the correct presentation and analysis of the observation sheets from teaching practice 0-5 points for the quality of presentation: style, content, academic vocabulary, and grammatical correctness Part2: Discussing a randomly selected topic according to the syllabus of the subject. 0-5 points for the content and the presented factual knowledge based on the recommended literature; 0-5 points for the quality of the delivery of the response (the speech is clear, and easy to follow, the knowledge is presented in a logical and coherent way);

0-5 points for the language used (grammatical correctness, and academic vocabulary)
30-28A, 27-25B, 24-22C, 21-19D, 18-16E, 15-0FX
The final mark is calculated as the sum of the exam results from the two credit tests and the oral part.

Learning outcomes:

The course is designed to help students understand and use the concepts of didactics and connect the knowledge of this subject area with the problems of teaching English as a foreign language. The students will obtain a general overview of didactics and the special characteristics of language teaching.

Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 1., 3.
Course level: II.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Continuous assessment of attendance and activity. Final assessment based upon preparation of an individual project.
Learning outcomes: To lead a student, through Socrates's dialogue, to the active way of life, development of critical thinking, active position in professional, public, and private life. The substantive aim is to cross closely specialised views of the world as well as willingness and ability to help others in altruistic way. It will concern a return to ancient times through the issue of man – knowing (wisdom and cleverness) and to some renaissance texts (On Dignity of a Human), which offer us a possibility to think of culture and civilisation, art and technology, heights and threats of a man in the period of birth, peak, and crises of development of European mankind.
Brief outline of the course: By studying philosophical texts - Plato - Politeia – a student will go in more detail through issues, which occupy philosophical thinking of the present. Justice, wisdom, education, knowing, care for soul – these are the topics, which apart from being philosophical issues, occupy thinking of an ordinary man (and, especially, young man looking for orientation of his/her life) Ancient times, Middle Ages, Renaissance, Modern Period – modern science (origin of mathematical natural science), manorial relation to the world. Nature and the world as the object of man subduing power – the only and absolute lord of the world. God - soul – world on the path of a man looking for happiness, delight, and suffering. A man in coordinates of power. Gadamer: Back to Greeks. Heidegger: Letter on Humanism. Several words on one problem: What is a man? What does it mean to philosophy? What is humanism? What is thinking? What is left behind horizon of our asking?

Course ID: KFaDF/ SAAJ/15	Course name: Shestov: Athens and Jerusalem
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 4.
Course level: II.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Assessment depends on student's active approach to fulfilment of study duties, individual work with texts in a library, active work during seminars, but also preparation and submission of a seminar paper at the end of the semester by the agreed deadline.
Learning outcomes: The aim of the course is to search for relations and interconnections between the Russian thinkers and the Western philosophy. To understand the meaning of paradoxical and aphoristic way of thinking of Lev Shestov through systematic study of his texts. Newness of this way of philosophical thinking for Russia at that time. Shestov's critique of science and scientific reason is revealed through studying the original texts written by the Russian philosophers, what makes students better understand the relation between the Western philosophical traditions in comparison with Russian philosophy and literature. In a seminar paper at the end of semester a student will get a chance to deal with any topic which can be called the Russian idea or Europe and Russia in the texts and contexts of the history of philosophy.
Brief outline of the course: Russia and Europe. Lev Shestov – Athens and Jerusalem - paradoxical and aphoristic way of thinking. Critique of science and scientific reason. Defence of a man. Socrates as inspiration for searching for one's self. Philosophy in exploration of mysteries and eternal themes for thinking – life, love and hope. Words and deeds. Temporality and eternity. Truth versus lie (falsehood and lie of the so-called "owners of truth"). Power of weakness and weakness of philosophy in confrontation with a commanding brute. What truths does a man need? Forcing truth. Kant and Plato versus everyday life, or constructions fixed in presumptions. Shakespeare - Hamlet or eternal mystery called man. Philosophy of history - great and small Hegels as unlawful candidates for prophetic throne. Spiritual exercises or Tolstoy, Dostoyevsky and Nietzsche as educators of fellows. The power of keys - Socrates, Luther and Erasmus, or eternal strife for man and God.

Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Assessment depends on student's active approach to fulfilment of study duties, individual work with texts in a library, active work during seminars, but also preparation and submission of a seminar paper at the end of the semester by the agreed deadline.
Learning outcomes: The aim is to make students familiar with life and work of thinker Hannah Arendt who significantly influenced the Western thinking of the 20th century. Arendt as a talented pupil of K. Jaspers influenced such thinkers as M. Heidegger and Ján Patočka. The study will be focused on the texts written by Arendt, in which she examines ontological and anthropological preconditions of the common world of human life, the world characterized by the fact that it is ruled by reason, but it is also very important that living human beings live in it. The issue of man is crucial topic for Arendt, because thinking about the current state of human affairs seems to be a serious problem of Western thinking - spiritual and political crisis of European mankind. What are the possibilities of rethinking elementary prerequisites of political life? What makes the basis of political reality? The Gap between Past and Future. Vita activa and condition humaine. What is Authority? What is Freedom? Greek polis and household. Polis and paideia. The Crisis of Education. The Crisis of Culture.

Course ID: KFaDF/WFIS/15	Course name: L. Wittgenstein: Philosophical Investigations
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 3.
Course level: II.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Method of course completion: assessment Continuous assessment: continuous test in week 7, 40% and continuous assessment of activity. Final assessment (e.g. exam, final paper...): 60 % - final test.
Learning outcomes: Analysis of ideas of fundamental work of European linguistics-oriented analytical philosophy, emphasizing the issue of natural language and the so-called “language-games” in the work Philosophical Investigations by L. Wittgenstein. The course draws the attention to the fact that Wittgenstein and also the major part of representatives of the linguistic philosophy were gradually emphasizing that it is necessary to examine not only the language of science, but also the natural language and its development.
Brief outline of the course: Comparison of roots of philosophy of L. Wittgenstein in the first and second periods of his theoretical activity (Wittgenstein I; Wittgenstein II). Concept and essence of analytical philosophy (analysis of background of the Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus); language and logics; picture language and language of metaphor in the Tractatus and in Philosophical Investigations. The problem of natural language and meta-language. Natural language and languages of science. Semantic and semiotic analysis of natural language and language of science. Language-games. Analysis of the issue of heteronomy or autonomy of language. Wittgenstein’s concept of philosophy in Philosophical Investigations.
