Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: II.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Conditions of continuous control: during the semester a student is continuously assessed according to his/her activity in seminars. To be awarded the credits for the semester, a student must attend the seminars successfully. Assessment in seminars is conditioned by obtaining the respective number of points (1 point is awarded for active participation). Writing and understanding of assigned texts is checked in seminars in the form of written assignment.
Learning outcomes: The aim of the course is to make students familiar with philosophical thinking of "deconstruction", which wants to be neither a method nor a discourse on the method or a tool of approach to history of philosophy. Students have a chance to be informed about perception of philosophy or history of philosophy as the deconstruction of this history, i.e. with perception of history as the critique of ideology of (traditional) perception of history, which makes basis for the present time.
Brief outline of the course: 1) Voice and Phenomenon 2) Diferance 3) Structure, Sign, and Play in the Discourse of the Human Sciences 4) Signature, Event, Context 5) White Mythology 6) Violence and Metaphysics 7) Cogito and History of Madness 8) "Genesis and Structure" and phenomenology

Course ID: KH/DBalm/15	Course name: History of the Balkans after the WWII
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture / Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 1 / 1 Per study period: 14 / 14 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 3.
Course level: II.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Elaboration of a seminar work - a paper, which will be prepared in the required quality on the basis of professional literature. The scope of the paper should not contain less than 5 standard pages (line spacing 1.5, font TIMES NEW ROMAN, 12) and must not exceed 10 pages, it must contain a note-taking apparatus, a list of used literature of at least 10 titles. Preparation for individual seminar meetings in the form of study of pre-assigned texts (in full-time or distance form of study). The final evaluation is a combination of seminar work and active student work in seminars.
Learning outcomes: The course characterizes the Balkan states after 1944, when the Second World War ended on the major part of the Balkans. With the aim to clarify key moments it describes some crucial after-war moments, pays attention in particular to the establishment of left-wing resistance and its influence on after-war fate of individual countries. The course informs about transition of individual Balkan countries to the living conditions of peace. Emphasis is put on gradual sovietisation of Romania, Bulgaria, Albania and Yugoslavia. The course also defines main political, economic and cultural features of individual Balkan states in after-war period. Attention is paid to the specific development in Greece (civil war) and Yugoslavia (conflict between Tito and Stalin). The course describes circumstances of dissolution of Yugoslavian communist organization and establishment of plurality system in individual republics and crisis moments of development in Croatia, Bosna and Hercegovina, and Kosovo until 1992, i.e. until official date of dissolution of SFRJ. It explains war events connected with the dissolution. It also tries to answer the question what chance peace had in Yugoslavia and in this connection it analyses the role of non-governmental organizations and peace movements. By completing the course, students will be able to evaluate the history of the Balkans in the specific period without historical myths and clichés, which have been built in the specialised literature in last 30 years.
Brief outline of the course: War and resistance. Importance of resistance movements for further development. End of war in Romania. Assumption of power by Romanian communists. End of war in Bulgaria and transition of Bulgaria to communist totalitarianism. Issue of resistance and after-war development in Albania. Yugoslavia in 1944-1946.

Liberation of Greece and civil war in 1947-1949.
 Tendencies of development in the Balkan states in 1950-1990.
 Conflict between Tito and Comintern and path of Yugoslavia outside the blocks.
 Development in Yugoslavia until the beginnings of 1980S.
 Path of Bulgaria as a loyal Soviet ally. Zhivkov's regime in Bulgaria. Collapse of Bulgarian socialism.
 Romanian path from Soviet sphere. Nicolae Ceaușescu. Bloody anti-communist revolution.
 Cyprus crisis and relations between Greece and Turkey.
 War conflicts on the territory of Yugoslavia (1991-1995)
 Autonomous areas in 1991-1995 (RSK, HB etc.). Reflection of civil war in popular culture (in literature, film, theatre and music).

Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Continuous assessment of attendance and activity. Final assessment based upon preparation of an individual project.
Learning outcomes: To lead a student, through Socrates's dialogue, to the active way of life, development of critical thinking, active position in professional, public, and private life. The substantive aim is to cross closely specialised views of the world as well as willingness and ability to help others in altruistic way. It will concern a return to ancient times through the issue of man – knowing (wisdom and cleverness) and to some renaissance texts (On Dignity of a Human), which offer us a possibility to think of culture and civilisation, art and technology, heights and threats of a man in the period of birth, peak, and crises of development of European mankind.
Brief outline of the course: By studying philosophical texts - Plato - Politeia – a student will go in more detail through issues, which occupy philosophical thinking of the present. Justice, wisdom, education, knowing, care for soul – these are the topics, which apart from being philosophical issues, occupy thinking of an ordinary man (and, especially, young man looking for orientation of his/her life) Ancient times, Middle Ages, Renaissance, Modern Period – modern science (origin of mathematical natural science), manorial relation to the world. Nature and the world as the object of man subduing power – the only and absolute lord of the world. God - soul – world on the path of a man looking for happiness, delight, and suffering. A man in coordinates of power. Gadamer: Back to Greeks. Heidegger: Letter on Humanism. Several words on one problem: What is a man? What does it mean to philosophy? What is humanism? What is thinking? What is left behind horizon of our asking?

Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Assessment depends on student's active approach to fulfilment of study duties, individual work with texts in a library, active work during seminars, but also preparation and submission of a seminar paper at the end of the semester by the agreed deadline.
Learning outcomes: The aim of the course is to search for relations and interconnections between the Russian thinkers and the Western philosophy. To understand the meaning of paradoxical and aphoristic way of thinking of Lev Shestov through systematic study of his texts. Newness of this way of philosophical thinking for Russia at that time. Shestov's critique of science and scientific reason is revealed through studying the original texts written by the Russian philosophers, what makes students better understand the relation between the Western philosophical traditions in comparison with Russian philosophy and literature. In a seminar paper at the end of semester a student will get a chance to deal with any topic which can be called the Russian idea or Europe and Russia in the texts and contexts of the history of philosophy.
Brief outline of the course: Russia and Europe. Lev Shestov – Athens and Jerusalem - paradoxical and aphoristic way of thinking. Critique of science and scientific reason. Defence of a man. Socrates as inspiration for searching for one's self. Philosophy in exploration of mysteries and eternal themes for thinking – life, love and hope. Words and deeds. Temporality and eternity. Truth versus lie (falsehood and lie of the so-called "owners of truth"). Power of weakness and weakness of philosophy in confrontation with a commanding brute. What truths does a man need? Forcing truth. Kant and Plato versus everyday life, or constructions fixed in presumptions. Shakespeare - Hamlet or eternal mystery called man. Philosophy of history - great and small Hegels as unlawful candidates for prophetic throne. Spiritual exercises or Tolstoy, Dostoyevsky and Nietzsche as educators of fellows. Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Assessment depends on student's active approach to fulfilment of study duties, individual work with texts in a library, active work during seminars, after interruption presents study preparation and submission of a seminar paper at the end of the semester by the agreed deadline.
Learning outcomes: The aim is to make students familiar with life and work of thinker Hannah Arendt who significantly influenced the Western thinking of the 20th century. Arendt as a talented pupil of K. Jaspers influenced such thinkers as M. Heidegger and Ján Patočka. The study will be focused on the texts written by Arendt, in which she examines ontological and anthropological preconditions of the common world of human life, the world characterized by the fact that it is ruled by reason, but it is also very important that living human beings live in it. The issue of man is crucial topic for Arendt, because thinking about the current state of human affairs seems to be a serious problem of Western thinking - spiritual and political crisis of European mankind. What are the possibilities of rethinking elementary prerequisites of political life? What makes the basis of political reality? The Gap between Past and Future. Vita activa and condition humaine. What is Authority? What is Freedom? Greek polis and household. Polis and paideia. The Crisis of Education. The Crisis of Culture.
