Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture / Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 3 / 2 Per study period: 42 / 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 7
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: During the semester, the student is required to complete three tasks: A) Written examination (max. number of points is 15, the required number of points is 8). The date is by default scheduled after a consultation week. B) Presentation of a seminar work on a chosen topic (max. number of points is 15, the required number of points is 8). C) Active participation during the seminar (max. number of points is 10, the required number is 1). To proceed to the final exam, it is necessary to obtain more than half of the total points that can be gained during the semester (note that a minimum number of points for activities A, B and C should be fulfilled as listed above). The final exam is in a written form. A student can get a maximum of 60 points. To pass, a student needs to obtain 31 and more points (note that credits will not be awarded to a student who gets less than 31 points from the final exam and whose sum of points obtained during the semester and the final exam is less than 51). The final mark is created by adding the points that the student gained during the semester and the final exam. At least 90 points must be obtained to obtain an "A" rating, 80-89 points to obtain an "B" rating, 70-79 points to obtain a "C" rating, 60-69 points to obtain a "D" rating and 51 to obtain an "E" rating 51 -59 points. The information will be yearly specified on the electronic noticeboard of the course in AiS2, alternatively in LMS UPJŠ or MS Teams environment.
Learning outcomes: The main goal of the course is to acquaint students with cognitive psychology, as a scientific discipline that deals with the study of human cognition, and to provide them with the current knowledge related to human cognition. In addition, the course also emphasizes the ability to properly understand this knowledge and apply it. For this purpose, the course provides not only an overview of the main theories of selected cognitive processes and the broader context of the discipline but also practical illustrations and systematic encouragement of critical thinking. The main goal of seminars is to train the ability to use and adequately present the acquired knowledge, connect this knowledge to other related areas, think about it independently, discuss it critically and, last but not least, to flexibly and creatively solve various related model activities.

The information will be yearly specified on the electronic noticeboard of the course in AiS2, alternatively in LMS UPJŠ or MS Teams environment.

Conditions for course completion: To complete the course, it is necessary to submit a protocol and to be active during seminars. This relates to assigned tasks, various manifestations and further assignments. The information will be yearly specified on the electronic noticeboard of the course in AiS2, alternatively in LMS UPJŠ or MS Teams environment.
Learning outcomes: This course is designed to acquaint students with the work in the psychological laboratory, with the techniques in the field of psychomotorics and cognitive processes and with various crucial aspects of psychological research. This involves both the manifestation of various cognitive phenomena as well as the participation in classical experimental procedures that are further critically evaluated and discussed by students. Furthermore, students create a protocol similar to a scientific manuscript. This is done with the aim to guide students through the whole research process and to encourage them to start to critically evaluate research findings that they find in the research literature as this skill is crucial for both research and psychological practice. The information will be yearly specified on the electronic noticeboard of the course in AiS2, alternatively in LMS UPJŠ or MS Teams environment.
