University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KF/LMPS/22	Course name: Leibniz's Metaphysics and World Perspectives
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture / Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 1 / 1 Per study period: 14 / 14 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 5.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Rating. Maximum 40 points during the semester - students' active approach to fulfilling their study obligations, independent work with texts in the library, active work at seminars. Processing of a partial task in the form of a seminar paper (5-8 standard A4 pages), in compliance with the citation standard KF FF UPJŠ. Final seminar paper - student's project during the semester - scope (12 standard A4 pages) represents 60% of the assessment. Final assessment: The sum of the interim assessment and the assessment of the final seminar paper. In case of interruption of face-to-face teaching, the emphasis will be on independent study and processing of professional literature, preparation of a partial task - seminar paper (5 standard A4 pages) which will be continuously evaluated (40%), used for communication with the teacher MS Teams, e-mail, at the end of the semester preparation and submission of the semester's seminar work by the set deadline (60%). Information is updated annually on the subject's electronic bulletin board in AIS2, or alternatively in MS Teams.
Learning outcomes: Students will gain a deeper understanding of the history of philosophy and modern times in the context of the history of philosophy. The peculiarity of the philosophy of Leibniz (one of the creators of modern society) is a departure from modern thinking, which wants to cut off medieval and scholastic ways of thinking separately. Leibniz finds possibilities in the context of dealing with medieval culture for its creative reworking and returning to the sources of ancient thought, especially to its peak period (classical Greek philosophy), in order to formulate the basic problems of the further development of European thought. The aim is to draw attention to the importance of studying the works of philosophers (Leibniz in particular) and through them to try to return and rethink some questions of philosophy.
Brief outline of the course: Leibniz and new thinking. God - soul - world as basic issues of philosophical reflection of Leibniz. Meditations as a way of Leibniz's thinking about basic issues of philosophy and science, but also freedom of a man. Four pillars of European culture. Freedom and happiness as fundamental topics of reflections of new philosophers.

COURSE INFORMATION LETTER

University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KF/DAT/22	Course name: M. Foucault: Discipline and Punish
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 6.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Conditions of continuous control: during the semester a student is continuously assessed according to his/her activity in seminars. To be awarded the credits for semester, a student must attend seminars. Assessment of students in seminars is conditioned by receiving the respective number of points (1 point for each active participation). Reading and understanding of the assigned texts can be checked during the seminars.
Learning outcomes: The aim of the course is to present philosophical thinking of the “Professor of the History of Systems of Thought”, genealogist and (although he did not like this description) post-structuralist thinker M. Foucault. Students have a chance to become familiar with (postmodern) genealogical understanding of history as the critique of ideologies that support (traditional) history. On the basis of Foucault’s analysis of establishment of prison and the related developing punishment practices, the seminar in written discourse attempts to draw the attention to the controversial points of our (optimistic) historical understanding of progressive ideas.
Brief outline of the course: 1) Torture 2) Punishment 3) Discipline 4) Prison

Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Rating. 40% continuous assessment 60% final semester seminar paper min. in the range of 12 standard A4 pages Final assessment: The sum of the interim assessment and the assessment of the final seminar paper. During the semester, the student is continuously evaluated at the seminars (oral or written), if the teaching is conducted face-to-face. In the case of switching to a distance form of study, the student will receive tasks and assignments for independent study and partial processing of the outputs in written form by the specified deadline. Final output - Processing and handing over the seminar paper (a project implemented by the student during the semester) to the student by the set date at the end of the semester with an emphasis on compliance with the citation standard valid at the KF FF UPJŠ. Information is updated annually on the subject's electronic bulletin board in AIS2, or alternatively in MS Teams.
Learning outcomes: Students will gain knowledge by studying the original philosophical texts - Plato's The State, and also by studying his predecessors and followers (Aristotle, Hegel, Jaeger, Heidegger, Gadamer, Strauss, etc.). Approach the issue of ancient thinking of the peak period (classical Greek philosophy) through the study of original texts (Plato - State). This work is considered an encyclopedia of Platonic philosophy and Platonism in general. Greek spirit - community and man. Polis and the Greek miracle, the meaning of the word paideia.
Brief outline of the course: Plato's State (Politeia) - as a philosophical theme. Plato and the Greeks. Greek culture and Plato in the history of philosophy. Village and man. Political aspects of Greek tragedy. The state as an encyclopedia of Plato's philosophy. Plato - The Seventh Letter. What is love? Filia as the basis of social cooperation in classical Greece. What is philosophy? A spiritual person and an intellectual. Areas and topics of research: justice, wisdom, virtue, education, leadership - constructive thinking and dialectics, sensory and rational - mental states: intellectual knowledge, thinking, belief, assumption. Plato's parables. Platonic teachings about the so-called two worlds, the sensory world and the world of ideas. Asceticism and the boundless world of pleasures - education, virtues.

Themes of Platonic philosophy - justice, state, education - poets and philosophers. Care of the soul (care of Self) - as a human problem in the coordinates of the history of philosophy and the present.
