Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture / Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 / 1 Per study period: 28 / 14 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 5
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 4.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Continuous assessment (test, independent work...): pwp presentation + paper Final assessment (exam, final thesis...): written exam The condition for granting credit /interim assessment/ is the processing of a presentation on a specific topic from a partial part of social policy (each student separately) + a report on the given topic. Topics are assigned in the 1st week of the semester in person (those who do not receive the topic in person for objective reasons) agree on the topic online with the teacher. In the 2nd week of the semester, it is necessary for each student to know what topic he has to work on. The date of the presentation is determined in the 1st week of the semester at the latest. The originality of the processing (both formal and content), clarity, brevity, accuracy, objectivity, (orientation in the issue) visibility-distinction, interest are evaluated. The selection of relevant processing sources is also important, of which there must be at least 10. At the beginning of the semester, students are familiar with what relevant sources are. Minimum duration of 15 minutes. The student will hand in one carrier with the presentation marked with the name of the student who is the author. Range of at least 15 slides. Sources are listed on each slide, as well as in the bibliography (according to the standard that is listed on the faculty's website in accordance with the dean's instructions for writing final theses). The dean's instructions for writing theses are also listed in the LS system of UPJŠ on the Social Policy course page. The paper on the topic is part of the fulfillment of the conditions. Range min. 10 standard pages. The form according to the dean's instructions, which is published in the UPJS LMS for the subject. The trainer can award the student plus points for the activity at the seminar, but also minus points if the student is not ready for the class according to the schedule of duties for individual seminar exercises in the syllabus. For the presentation in PWP, it is also necessary to add a verbal description, report, commenting on each part of the presentation, up to 10 standard pages. Students are informed about all the details of the presentation and the related report, formal, but above all content, in 1 meeting, they can write any questions to the appropriate email, always from the official student account at UPJŠ.

The student is obliged to come to seminar exercises prepared in terms of the syllabus. If he is not ready, he can be evaluated with a minus point, and if he is ready, he will be evaluated with plus points, which are added to the total sum for the semester.

100% participation in seminars is required from students. For each non-participation in the seminars, the teacher will determine a substitute written performance. A maximum of 3 absences can be replaced. Addendum: the teacher will assess, based on the seriousness of the reason for non-participation, whether he will determine written compliance or excuse the student's non-participation without written compliance.

Learning outcomes:

To acquaint students with characteristics of social policy, principles, functions, theoretical and ideological concepts in theory and application to practice. Emphasis is placed on understanding social policy both as a scientific discipline and as a practical activity, which focuses not only on the problems of social security of the population against the negative social consequences of the economic and political transformation process, but also on policies with significant reactivation stimulative and developmental aspects. Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 5.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: 1. Active participation in 9 joint consultations for the bachelor thesis and individual consultations for the thesis with the supervisor. 2. Individual study. 3. On an ongoing basis, the student submits and, if necessary, revises the following documents according to the instructions: - the main goal and the sub-goals of the bachelor thesis, - description of methods and methodology, - structure of the thesis, - list of literature relevant to the topic in accordance with ISO 690: 2012, - formulation of the benefits of the thesis, - literature review. The bachelor thesis is the result of the student's own work. It must not show elements of academic fraud and must meet the criteria of good research practice defined in the Rector's Decision no. 21/2021, which lays down the rules for assessing plagiarism at Pavel Jozef Šafárik University in Košice and its components. Fulfillment of criteria is verified mainly in the process of creating the thesis and in the process of defense of the thesis. Non-compliance with these rules is a reason for initiating disciplinary proceedings.

The maximum number of points that can be obtained from the exam is 60. A minimum of 31 points must be obtained from the exam. Points obtained from the assignment and the exam will be added together. To obtain a grade of A, a minimum of 91 points must be achieved, B - 81 points, C - 71 points, D - 61 points, and E - a minimum of 52 points. Conditions for Successful Completion of the Course: Attendance at classes in accordance with the study regulations and the instructions of the teacher. Fulfillment of the conditions of continuous and final assessment.
Learning outcomes: Students will become familiar with the elementary elements of the social structure of society, their mutual determination, and the diversity of views on the causal relationships of specific social phenomena and processes. At the same time, they will become acquainted with the foundations on which social life is built, the mechanisms of creating individual forms of social life, the processes of social mobility, and the roles of social norms, social control, and individual forms and types of social institutions in the regulatory and control processes of social life. This creates the premise for understanding the functions of public administration in society and, at the same time, for understanding the importance of scientifically grounded knowledge about social phenomena for the practice of public administration. The graduate of the subject will be able to define and explain in their own words the basic sociological concepts, understands the basic theoretical approaches in sociology (conflictualism, consensualism, constructivism...), remembers the most important authors in the history and present of sociological thought, can assign individual authors to sociological schools, directions, and paradigms, can apply the acquired knowledge to the area of public administration and use it in the study of social phenomena at the theoretical and applied level, understands the difference between micro and macro-sociological aspects of social phenomena.
