Course ID: KAaA/ AMSTb/21	Course name: American Studies 1 - History and Institutions of the USA
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 5.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: To successfully complete the course, students are encouraged to perform well on two levels of assessment: continuous and final. Continuous assessment requires active participation and performance in each lesson, including participation in discussions based on reading required texts and watching assigned films. Students are expected to not only engage with individual texts/films but also evaluate the author's message, recognize the potential implications of the text within historical contexts, identify different perspectives, and make inferences about authors' messages. Students are also highly encouraged to challenge individual arguments presented in the texts/films. Unprepared students who have not read/watched the assigned materials prior to each class will be marked as absent. In order to successfully complete the course and receive credits, students need to achieve the cumulative score from two Final tests - one covering topics from American History and one from Social Institutions of at least 65%. Attendance: Students are expected to attend each class according to the schedule, including in the online environment. Transfers among groups are not allowed. If students miss three or more classes, they will not receive credits for the course, regardless of their overall results. The course is currently conducted in person; however, the format of individual classes may be subjected to changes due to possible precautions resulting from the Covid-19 pandemic. If the pandemic situation changes, the course will continue in an online format via MS Teams for lectures and individual classes. The final grade will be calculated as a sum of grades from the two parts - tests (50%+50%). HISTORY part : Students will write 1 test in WEEK 13 (14). There are no re-takes. INSTITUTIONS part : There will be one test in Week 13 (14). FINAL EVALUATION : A 93-100% B 86-92% C 78-85% D 72-77% E 65-71% FX 64 and less

Learning outcomes:

The course combines information on history and institutions to provide a complex insight into what constitutes American nation. From the historical perspective the course considers the economic, social and political history of the USA from the earliest period. It provides an explanation of what happened and why. It captures the events, personalities that shaped the nation. It examines how historians have interpreted the past and provides a conceptual framework through which the past can be illuminated.

From the perspective of Institutions, the course introduces basic terminology and theory that helps to understand contemporary American society. The student will be able to analyse past events, and attempt to objectively determine the patterns of cause and effect. Moreover, the student will be able to implement basic concepts of history. The target theory is a theory of identity with reference to various aspects such as religion, family, race, and class. Via the interpretation of primary sources the main objective of this part is to develop and/or improve essential analytical skills in dealing with contemporary cultural problems with the focus on social institutions as the main agent of social changes.

Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT: 1. ATTENDANCE: Attendance is compulsory in both online and in-person classes. Each student is allowed 2 absences at most. Important information regarding the final evaluation and the course in general will be discussed during the introductory session, therefore, failing to attend the WEEK 1 introductory session is ALSO COUNTED AS AN ABSENCE. Not logging into an online class is COUNTED AS AN ABSENCE. More than two missed seminars will result in failing the course, irrespective of exam or essay results. Students must be on time for class. 2. ACTIVE PARTICIPATION (20 points): Students are required to do their best with respect to active participation in seminar sessions. Students are expected to bring their own ANNOTATED copies of the required materials, complete the assigned tasks and exercises (available on UPJS OneDrive/MS Teams and during the lessons) and participate in class discussions. Throughout the semester, students will be awarded points for actively participating in class discussions. Each student can earn up to 3 active participation points per seminar session. 3. IN-CLASS ESSAY (40 points): After each topic, students are required to write a short essay (200-300 words). Each student will hand in a total of 4 essays. Essay topics will be announced during the seminars. Essays will be handwritten in class. They must conform to the guidelines of academic writing and must NOT be plagiarised. No part of the paper may be produced by AI text generators. Using material produced by AI text generators will be considered plagiarism. Plagiarised papers will be awarded 0 points. Students will NOT be given the option of rewriting plagiarised papers. 4. TEST (40 points): Students will write one written test covering ALL material studied during the course. There are NO RETAKES. If you are unable to attend the test for valid reasons (e.g. medical emergency), contact the teacher as soon as possible, or in advance if possible. To pass the course, the SUM of all points (active participation + essays + test) must be no less than 65 points. Grading scale: Mark % A 93–100 B 86–92 C 78–85

Learning outcomes:

This course is designed to help students explore British popular fiction, i.e. the texts that are not studied in traditional literature history classes, as they stand outside the canon. It is the aim of this course to teach students to critically examine and analyse the significance and cultural impact of texts they would normally consider leisure reading. Also, the course poses questions such as: What is the difference between high and low culture? What is the place of popular fiction within literature? Can popular fiction be analysed in the same manner as literature? What is genre and how is it significant for popular fiction?

Brief outline of the course:

COURSE STRUCTURE:

The course consists of an introduction and 4 two-week blocks dedicated to different genres of popular fiction. Each block is divided into two parts. During the first week, students read theoretical texts, study the characteristics and history of the respective genre and acquire a critical outlook on the genre. During the second week, students read specific works that are good examples of the genre and attempt to apply the acquired theoretical concepts in class discussions, as well as in written assignments.

WEEK 1: Introduction. Basic information: assessment, readings, etc. A note on plagiarism and AI.

WEEK 2: Popular fiction: what is it and why should I care? Can/should we analyse popular fiction in academia? What is genre? What are cultural studies?

WEEK 3: Gothic Novel 1 / Text: Clive Bloom “Now Welcome the Night: The Origins of Gothic Culture”

WEEK 4: Gothic Novel 2 / Texts: Ann Radcliff “The Mysteries of Udolpho” (excerpt); Jane Austen Northanger Abbey (excerpt) - IN-CLASS ESSAY 1

WEEK 5: Detective Fiction 1 / Text: John G. Cawelti “The Formula of the Classical Detective Story”

WEEK 6: Detective Fiction 2 / Texts: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle “The Final Problem”; Agatha Christie “The Market Basing Mystery” - IN-CLASS ESSAY 2

WEEK 7: Science Fiction 1 / Text: Adam Charles Roberts “Defining Science Fiction”

WEEK 8: Science Fiction 2 / Text: Douglas Adams “The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy”, Book 1 (entire novel) - IN-CLASS ESSAY 3

WEEK 9: Chick Lit 1 / Text: Cris Mazza “Who’s Laughing Now? A Short History of Chick Lit and the Perversion of a Genre”

WEEK 10: TUTORIALS –

- YEARS 1 and 2: READING WEEK (This is your time to catch up on your compulsory reading)

- YEAR 3: TEST

WEEK 11: Chick Lit 2 / Text: Helen Fielding “Bridget Jones’s Diary” (whole novel) - IN-CLASS ESSAY 4

WEEK 12: THURSDAY GROUP (YEAR 1 and 2): TEST (test date: April 30) / WEDNESDAY GROUP: NO CLASS – SCHEDULE CHANGE

WEEK 13: WEDNESDAY GROUP (YEAR 1 and 2): TEST (test date: May 7) / THURSDAY GROUP: NO CLASS – PUBLIC HOLIDAY

WEEK 14: TUTORIALS

TEST DATES ARE PROVISIONAL AND MIGHT BE CHANGED BY THE TEACHER

DURING THE SEMESTER IF THERE ARE VALID REASONS FOR SUCH A CHANGE. If test dates change, the teacher will inform students in advance.

Conditions for course completion: Continuous assessment: 100 %: 1, The course work (activity and reports) represents 50 % of your continuous assessment. Activity: Each of you is expected to read and analyse the class materials before the lesson, to bring and use them in our seminars, to contribute actively to seminar discussions by presenting information, ideas and comments. Report: Each student must give a short report on the material assigned by the teacher. You will be given the information about sources and specific tasks in advance. You should mainly focus on essential approaches and theories, explaining them to your peers. These presentations should not be essays which you read out, but should present new or important information in a manner which your peers will be able to absorb. 2, Individual /pair project represents 50 % of your continuous assessment. You will be assigned a specific task (e.g. analysis of media product, case analysis, etc.) on which you will work on your own /in pairs. Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: UK ART AND CULTURE (50% of the grade) Continuous Assessment: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Regular Class Attendance Students are allowed to miss no more than 2 seminars for whatever reason, in order to be able to complete the course. Should anyone come unprepared, they will be asked to leave and considered absent from the seminar. There are no re-takes for presentations. Please keep this in mind and make sure you are always present in class when your presentation is due. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Active Participation in Class - 10+ points (1 for each class = a chance to earn some additional points) = 20% At the beginning of each seminar, students will be asked to provide a brief revision of the given historical period and of the English/British literature of the time. All you have to do is go through your notes from British History 1 and British Literature 1 and 2 and provide a concise overview, focusing on what you consider important. Another way of earning points for active participation is by contributing your knowledge and opinions to the discussion and interacting with your colleagues. These opinions should be based on your home preparation and reading. Do not expect to earn points for active presentation if all you do is say a word or two occasionally or when asked. You are expected to interact with your colleagues, answer their questions as well as those asked by the teacher and ask relevant questions yourself. Final Presentation - 20 points (see the document entitled "Final presentation and evaluation" for detailed instructions) = 30% Each student will choose their own topic from the very broad area of British art and culture – a painting, statue, installation, building, monument, street art, photography etc. Please, make sure you choose something you like, find interesting and would like your colleagues to know about. Do not choose the works discussed in our seminars! You will be asked to apply the historical background and the theoretical information you have studied during the semester to the analysis of your chosen work of art and present it to your colleagues in a 10 minute presentation. All the topics must be approved by the teacher and submitted no later than during our seminar in week 8. A specific set of rules to follow and a list of criteria for presentation evaluation is available on MS Teams (or SharePoint) for you to be able to prepare a successful presentation and to evaluate your colleagues. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to ask them in class or during my office hours.

US ARTS AND CULTURE:

To complete the course, students need to complete both parts of the continuous assessment. Continuous assessment requires students' active participation in each lesson (participation in discussions based on reading required texts). Each student also needs to present a topic chosen by the lecturer at the beginning of the course and deliver a handout. If someone fails to present their topic, they will not receive credits for this part (30%). To complete the course, students are also required to successfully pass the test at the end of the course (70%).

Attendance:

Students are expected to attend each class according to the schedule, which applies to online classes too. No transfers among the groups are allowed. Should students miss three or more classes, they will not receive credits for the course no matter what their overall results are.

FINAL ASSESSMENT:

To qualify for the final exam all students must receive minimum 65% of continuous assessment from each of the two parts separately.

There will be a final written exam taken during the examination period consisting of two tests, one covering UK Art and Culture part (50 % of the final grade) and the other one covering American Art and Culture part (50 % of the final grade). In order to be awarded final credits, each student must receive 65% minimum from the two tests combined.

Every student is entitled to 2 retakes if necessary, which means 3 chances for passing the exam.

The final grade for the course will be based on the following grading scale.

A 93-100%

B 86-92%

C 78-85%

D 72-77%

E 65-71%

FX 64 and less.

Should you have any questions on the above explained forms of assessment, address them to your individual lecturer at the beginning of the semester (Dr Martausova or Dr Sabovikova).

Learning outcomes:

Aims and objectives:

The aim of this course is to develop and improve essential analytical skills in dealing with American culture and art, and to acquire knowledge of historical development of the Fine Arts in USA. The course is designed to provide students with information about the most vital eras important in the overall development of a distinctive American tradition in Arts, and to enhance students' very own interpretation of individual works of art. The course embraces eras and periods starting from Colonial America until late 20th century, focusing on both - mainstream and ethnic traditions, and all means of artistic production (visual art as well as audiovisual art of the 20th century). The main objective of the course is to present information about the development of art in coherence with wider social, cultural but also political contexts that substantially contribute to the expression of American art.

UK ART AND CULTURE

Course Description:

The course builds upon the students' prior knowledge of British history and literature and tries not only to revise this knowledge but also to put it into a broader cultural context. Proceeding chronologically from the period of English Renaissance, we shall focus on how the political and social situation of the time has been reflected in (not only) visual art and in cultural production of the time, taking British literature as a starting point. The students shall therefore be asked to revise selected chapters of British history and literature for each seminar. This revision will be followed by reading materials that deal specifically with mostly visual art and culture of the time. This theoretical knowledge will then be applied to specific examples art and culture that may serve as a source of information not only about the artistic values of the society of the time but also about its norms, values and institutions.

Learning Outcomes:

By the end of this course, student will be able to:

- Identify some of the most significant works of British art
- Understand the connections between historical background and cultural development of the respective periods
- Identify main ideas and arguments in the texts assigned for home preparation
- Apply this theoretical knowledge to the analysis of works of art and culture and make their own analysis of a selected work of art based on the theories studied throughout the semester
- Students would also improve the transferable skills of summarising texts they have read, understanding knowledge gained in the classroom, understanding and applying it in the form of a presentation

UK ART AND CULTURE

WEEK 1: Course Introduction

Content: defining culture and art, the concept of national culture, British culture and stereotypes, cultural literacy

We will discuss our understanding of the terms 'art' and 'culture' and try to come up with our own definitions. Then we will think about the term 'national' culture and British culture in particular and see how we each understand these notions and what concepts and stereotypes we associate with being British. Our next task will be to try to clarify the term 'art' and how we understand it in relation to culture. Throughout this course, we will also be working on improving certain skills that may be useful in broader context. This lesson will focus on summarising texts and presenting these summaries to others, which will later be applied in individual presentations.

Reading (in class):

- Arnold, D.: Art History. A Very Short Introduction. Oxford: OUP, 2004. Chapter 1

WEEK 2: English Renaissance

Content: Renaissance, Reformation, portrait painting, Tudors and the Golden Age

In this class, we will compare the understanding of arts and the role of artists in ancient, medieval and Renaissance society and discuss how and why Renaissance came to be a defining turning point for European culture and how our awareness of this period has been shaped by its presentation in the media.

Revision: Tudor England (history), Elizabethan and Tudor Literature (literature)

Reading:

- <http://www.arthistory.sbc.edu/artartists/ancmed.html>

<http://www.arthistory.sbc.edu/artartists/renaissance.html>

Presentation(s): compare the position of art and artist in ancient, medieval and Renaissance society

WEEK 3: Commonwealth and Restoration

Content: Charles I and Baroque portrait, art and culture of the Commonwealth, Restoration

This class will focus on the reflection of the changing social and political situation in the period art, particularly the portrait painting. We will discuss how portraits of monarchs and other influential figures reflected their ambitions and served as a message for the others. Applying our theoretical knowledge to analysing specific works of art, we will move on to discuss the form of the final presentation and its evaluation criteria.

Revision: Stuarts (history), 17th century and Restoration literature (literature)

Reading:

- Sharpe, K. 'Portrait of an Age'. In History Today, March 2009, pp. 6-7.
- Skeaping, L. 'All singing, all dancing'. In History Today, February 2010, pp. 18-24.

WEEK 4: Neo-Classicism, English School of Art

Content: The Age of Reason, Enlightenment, the rise of middle classes, satire, journalism

Neo-Classical art and culture in general marked a shift in topics, styles and target audience for writers and visual artists alike. Using our knowledge of neo-classical literature as a starting point, we will analyse several paintings of the so called English School to see how similar principles were applied in visual arts. Since this period also marked the birth of journalism and regular newspapers, we will compare some of those with our current notions of what a newspaper is.

Revision: Neoclassical prose and poetry (literature)

Reading:

- <http://www.gutenberg.org/files/2176/2176-h/2176-h.htm> - (Introduction and the first of the discourses)
- http://www.gutenberg.org/files/22500/22500-h/22500-h.htm#Page_113

Presentation(s): compare Hogarth's and Reynolds' attitudes to art (themes and genres they preferred) and the education and training of young artists

WEEK 5: Georgian Era

Content: architecture, domestic life, Regency

This period in British art history will give us an opportunity to pay more attention to architecture. We will look back on how architectural styles evolved but will also discuss the less visible aspects of this topic, including the notion of domesticity and the organisation of domestic life.

Revision: Jane Austen (literature), Hanoverians (history)

Reading:

- Vickery, A. 'Open House Georgian Style'. In History Today, November 2009, pp. 42-44.
- Bryson, B. At Home. A Short History of Private Life. London: Transworld Publishers, 2010.

Chapter 5

WEEK 6: Romanticism, Landscape

Content: changing perception of nature, topography, history painting

Our discussion of Romantic painting will focus on the development of this genre and primarily on comparing 2 most significant English landscape painters, trying to identify their different aims and understanding of their work. We will also cover the genre of history painting, its connection to landscape in the works of Turner and discuss the reasons for its prominent status in this particular period in history.

Revision: the Age of Romanticism (literature)

Reading:

- Wilton, A.: Five Centuries of British Painting. From Holbein to Hodgkin. London: Thames and Hudson, 2002. Chapter 5

Presentation(s): compare Constable and Turner's different approaches to the genre of landscape painting

WEEK 7: Victorian Britain

Content: Empire, industrialisation, old vs. new, Arts and Crafts movement

We will start this lesson by discussing last week's reading and then move on to other aspects of Victorian Britain. We will discuss its conservatism as opposed to major innovations in technology, science and thinking, major advances and modernisation as opposed to pseudo-styles and attempts at reviving ancient arts and crafts.

Revision: Industrial Revolution, Victorian Britain (history),

Reading:

- Wilton, A.: Five Centuries of British Painting. From Holbein to Hodgkin. London: Thames and Hudson, 2002. Chapter 6 – Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood
- Bryson, B. At Home. A Short History of Private Life. London: Transworld Publishers, 2010.

Chapter 1

Presentation(s): old vs. new in Victorian Britain in terms of visual art, architecture and way of thinking

WEEK 8: Contemporary Art and Culture

Content: Young British Artists, conceptual art, new media

During this class, we will return to our initial definitions of what art means and will compare these with the theories discussed in the reading that try to respond to current styles and trends. Specific examples will include paintings, installations and other forms of art by contemporary British artists. Again, we will see how the understanding of art, artist and their role has been evolving.

Reading:

- Pooke, G. and Whitman, G. 2008. Teach Yourself Art History. Chapter 4

Number of ECTS credits: 7
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: During the semester, the student is required to complete three tasks: A) Written examination (max. number of points is 15, the required number of points is 8). The date is by default scheduled after a consultation week. B) Presentation of a seminar work on a chosen topic (max. number of points is 15, the required number of points is 8). C) Active participation during the seminar (max. number of points is 10, the required number is 1). To proceed to the final exam, it is necessary to obtain more than half of the total points that can be gained during the semester (note that a minimum number of points for activities A, B and C should be fulfilled as listed above). The final exam is in a written form. A student can get a maximum of 60 points. To pass, a student needs to obtain 31 and more points (note that credits will not be awarded to a student who gets less than 31 points from the final exam and whose sum of points obtained during the semester and the final exam is less than 51). The final mark is created by adding the points that the student gained during the semester and the final exam. At least 90 points must be obtained to obtain an "A" rating, 80-89 points to obtain an "B" rating, 70-79 points to obtain a "C" rating, 60-69 points to obtain a "D" rating and 51 to obtain an "E" rating 51 -59 points. The information will be yearly specified on the electronic noticeboard of the course in AiS2, alternatively in LMS UPJŠ or MS Teams environment.
Learning outcomes: The main goal of the course is to acquaint students with cognitive psychology, as a scientific discipline that deals with the study of human cognition, and to provide them with the current knowledge related to human cognition. In addition, the course also emphasizes the ability to properly understand this knowledge and apply it. For this purpose, the course provides not only an overview of the main theories of selected cognitive processes and the broader context of the discipline but also practice: practical illustrations and systematic encouragement of critical thinking. The main goal of seminars is to train the ability to use and adequately present the acquired knowledge, connect this knowledge to other related areas, think about it independently, discuss it critically and, last but not least, to flexibly and creatively solve various related model activities.

Knowledge: Students will gain an overview of the history and development of cognitive psychology, including major theories and models. They will acquire knowledge about cognitive processes such as perception, attention, memory, learning, thinking, and language. They will be familiar with the main paradigms of thinking about these cognitive processes and the research methods used in cognitive psychology.

Abilities: Students will develop the ability to think about cognitive processes within the framework of selected theoretical models. They will be able to apply cognitive psychology theories to real-life situations and problems. They will gain the skill to design and conduct experiments to investigate cognitive processes. Students can build upon the acquired abilities and further develop them in subsequent courses.

Skills

Students will be able to use the principles of cognitive psychology to solve practical problems. They will understand optimally functioning cognitive processes as well as their natural limits and will be able to effectively communicate concepts and research findings in the field of cognitive psychology. They will be prepared to critically follow current developments and research in cognitive psychology.

The information will be yearly specified on the electronic noticeboard of the course in AiS2, alternatively in LMS UPJŠ or MS Teams environment.

Brief outline of the course:

History of cognitive psychology. Research of cognition in the period of psychology as a scientific discipline. The emergence of cognitive psychology.

Cognition - general characteristics. Structure of cognitive processes. Paradigms in cognitive psychology: S-R scheme, information processing model, evolutionary approach, connectionist approach. Stimuli and mental representations.

Perception - sensory processes. Perception - organization of the perceptual field, object recognition, specific types of perception.

Attention - selection and division of attention. Theories of attention. Automatic and controlled processes and attention.

Memory - models, types of memory, memory processes.

Learning - classical conditioning, operant conditioning and other types of learning.

Mental representations and ideas. Thinking – concepts and operations. Language and thinking. Thinking and speech.

Judgment, decision making, problem solving, creativity. Current research of cognitive processes.

The information will be yearly specified on the electronic noticeboard of the course in AiS2, alternatively in LMS UPJŠ or MS Teams environment.

COURSE INFORMATION LETTER

University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KPPaPZ/EC0-C3/14	Course name: Conflict Management
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 4
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 3., 5.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: The conditions for passing the course are as follows: 1. Active participation in exercises. Max. the missed range is 90 min. 2. Submission of the reflection on the selected topic within the specified time. Reflection topic: My strengths and weaknesses in conflict management. In a short presentation of their reflection, in the form of deconstruction, students will describe their strengths and weaknesses in the management of conflict situations with a focus on the application of knowledge, skills and competences needed in conflict situations in the work environment and the school environment. The evaluation of the course and its subsequent completion will be based on clearly and objectively set requirements, which will be set in advance and will not change. The aim of the assessment is to ensure an objective and fair mapping of the student's knowledge while adhering to all ethical and moral standards. There is no tolerance for students' fraudulent behavior, whether in the teaching process or in the assessment process.
Learning outcomes: Successful mastery and demonstration of knowledge in the field of conflict management and control of basic rules. The method of teaching the subject will be oriented to the student. Lecturers will be interested in students' needs, expectations and opinions so as to encourage them to think critically by expressing respect and feedback on their opinions and needs. The content of the curriculum will be based on primary and high-quality sources that will reflect the topicality of the topics so as to ensure the connection of the curriculum with other subjects and also the connection of the curriculum with practice. Students will be expected to take an active approach in lectures and seminars with an emphasis on their independence and responsibility. The student is able to demonstrate an understanding of an individual's behavior in various conflict situations. The student is able to describe, explain and evaluate their own internal resources, competencies as well as limitations and weaknesses that are directly related to conflict management. The student is able to apply theoretical knowledge and principles of conflict resolution to everyday situations. After completing the course, students will be able to: a) express and summarize basic knowledge related to conflict management; b) understand the basic rules and dynamics of the origin, course and termination of the conflict; c) apply knowledge in practice, e.g. in the school environment; d)

COURSE INFORMATION LETTER

University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KAaA/ EMENb/15	Course name: E-mail English
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Student evaluation is based on three criteria: TWO CREDIT TESTS 70%; CONTINUOUS PREPARATION 10%, and ATTENDANCE AND ACTIVE PARTICIPATION 20%. To receive credits for this course students must pass the two credit tests; continuously and timely submit their reports and attend each class according to the schedule. Attendance is followed during the online sessions too. TESTS constitute 70% of the final mark: Ordinarily, student coursework is evaluated by letter grades, which are assigned a value based on a 100-point scale gained from two credit tests plus points for continuous preparation and active participation. The final mark is assigned according to the following scale: A 100-93 B 92-86 C 85-78 D 77-72 E 71-65 FX 64-0 Students who are unable to take a credit test at the scheduled time due to a documented condition should contact the lecturer as soon as the need is apparent to discuss make-up examination accommodations and procedures. Students absent from a scheduled credit test will be examined by the lecturer separately in an ORAL EXAM to collect information about their level of preparedness. Oral exams will be realized during the lecturer's consultation hours as soon as possible after the missed credit test. The content of the oral examination will be equivalent with the content of the missed credit test but may last longer than a written test and can include deeper analysis of certain problem areas of the course. CONTINUOUS PREPARATION constitutes 10% of the final mark (maximum 10 points): Students are expected to prepare reports for each class by reading and processing the study materials and the required literature. Formal requirements for the home assignments: Minimum 2 but maximum 3 pages in Microsoft Word editor: letter type Times New Roman; letter size 12, spacing 1.5, 34 lines with 2865 characters per page with spaces. The report's header must contain the student's name and surname, study group, number of the given week according to the syllabus of the course and the title of the topic for the week. The final document must be saved in Printable Document Format (PDF). Ignoring any of these criteria will automatically lead to the refusal of the submitted report.

Content requirements for the assignment:

Students must present the content of the reading assignment synthesized in a clear and structured way: highlighting key information and data as well as presenting logical connections between them. The submitted report must represent the student's thorough understanding of the content and the problem area discussed in the reading assignment.

WARNING: Reports must be original work of the author! Any violation of copyright or breach of anti-plagiarism rules and regulations of the university will inevitably lead to disciplinary procedures! Repeated and systematic plagiarism will lead to the loss of credits assigned for completion the course!

Deadline and the format of the report:

Students must mail their home assignments to the following email address: rozenfeld.julius2@atk.sk by Saturday 24:00 each week. The reports must be mailed in PDF format. No other formats are accepted! No late submissions will be accepted unless separately negotiated with the supervisor of the course!

ATTENDANCE AND ACTIVE PARTICIPATION constitute 20% (maximum 20 points) of the final mark:

All students must attend all classes regardless they are organized face-to-face or online. Students must join the class sessions on time. Should anyone miss the first ten minutes of a class, will be marked as absent from the class. Points for active participation are assigned ONLY to the students who actively contribute to the learning process during the sessions with joining discussions!

Volunteer work in extracurricular activities that are organized by the Department of the British and American Studies which clearly contribute to the students' professional development such as: lectures and workshops, career week activities, organization of open-door days, language competitions, conferences, Olympiads, and other similar activities are fully supported! Should these activities be organized during the regular session times, volunteers will be acknowledged as if they had participated in the regular class session.

ABSENCE DUE TO ILLNESS

A student absent from a class must file a valid doctor's certificate by emailing it in a PDF format to the lecturer as soon as possible. Due reports for the missed class must be submitted according to the syllabus of the course and no later than the following class attended by the student.

In an emergency, if the student is unable to contact the lecturer and mail the valid doctor's certificate or is being treated elsewhere, the lecturer must be informed by sending an email to the following email address: julius.rozenfeld@upjs.sk as soon as possible. In both cases, the student must also file a letter from a physician certifying the date and nature of the illness.

ABSENCE FOR OTHER REASONS

Students who must be absent for reasons other than illness, such as a death in the family or a reason of similar gravity, must contact the lecturer as soon as possible and submit relevant documents that certify the seriousness of the case.

There may be other activities which can validate missing a class or several classes, for example participation in high-quality international competitions, scientific research, conferences, or other relevant activities, which clearly contribute to the professional development of the student but final decision about the validity of the presented excuse fully falls in the lecturer's competency. Regular full-time or part-time employment is not an acceptable excuse for a missed class.

COVID-19 regulations:

Changing pandemic situation requires continuous adaptation. Online sessions organized via Microsoft Teams are the preferred alternative to in-person sessions if necessary. Attendance will

be duly followed on online meetings too. Tests – if required for the completion of course – are also planned flexibly. Normally, the first credit test takes place during the 6th week of the term with a second credit test on the 12th week, but changes may apply. If necessary, these test dates can be changed according to the pandemic situation or replaced by online tests the form and content of which are comparable with a normal paper-based test. Students are required to follow the department's noticeboard and inform themselves continuously about the possible changes!
Learning outcomes: The main goal of the course is to introduce students into the basics of business communication and correspondence. The course is designed to help students develop the writing skills needed to create clear messages. Special emphasis is placed on spelling, text design, style and the formal aspects of communication. By completing the course, students will be able to actively conduct business correspondence, communicate correctly and accurately in various business situations, actively use graphs and describe statistical findings in presentations, prepare reports for business needs and create their own portfolio with a resume necessary for successful job interviews.

Conditions for course completion: Attendance - students are expected to attend each class according to the schedule. Should the student miss three or more classes, he/she will not receive credits for the course no matter what his/her overall results are on the test(s). The student must be on time for class or he/she will be marked as absent. 2.Active participation, completed homework assignments - students are required to come prepared and do their best with respect to active participation in seminar sessions. Students are expected to bring their own copies of the required materials and complete the assigned tasks and exercises. Should you fail to bring your own copy or a completed home assignment for a particular seminar, you will be marked as absent. 3.Final assessment – students will take 2 tests. Final grade will be calculated as a total sum of grades from the two tests. The final grade for the course will be based on the following grading scale. A 93-100%B 86-92%C 78-85%D 72-77%E 65-71%FX 64 and less. Should you have any questions on the forms of assessment, address them to your lecturer at the beginning of the semester.
Learning outcomes: The course expands the essentials of upper-intermediate and advanced English grammar in order to make students' language competence better. The course introduces several various grammar topics, e.g., tenses, gerunds and infinitives, passive voice, conditionals, etc. It familiarizes students with word formation and provides practice of phrasal verbs, prepositional phrases, and idioms. Since grammar is the foundation for communication, grammar rules help learners develop the habit of thinking logically and clearly. Students will be able to become more accurate when using a grammatically correct language.

Students must mail their home assignments to the following email address: rozenfeld.julius2@atk.sk by Saturday 24:00 each week. The reports must be mailed in PDF format. No other formats are accepted! No late submissions will be accepted unless separately negotiated with the supervisor of the course!

ATTENDANCE AND ACTIVE PARTICIPATION constitute 20% (maximum 20 points) of the final mark:

All students must attend all classes regardless they are organized face-to-face or online. Students must join the class sessions on time. Should anyone miss the first ten minutes of a class, will be marked as absent from the class. Points for active participation will be assigned only when the student actively contributes to the learning process during the sessions by joining discussions!

Volunteer work in extracurricular activities that are organized by the Department of the British and American Studies which clearly contribute to the students' professional development such as: lectures and workshops, career week activities, organization of open-door days, language competitions, conferences, Olympiads, and other similar activities are fully supported! Should these activities be organized during the regular session times, volunteers will be assigned the points for active participation as if they had participated in the regular class session.

ABSENCE DUE TO ILLNESS

A student absent from a class must file a valid doctor's certificate by emailing it in a PDF format to the lecturer as soon as possible. Due reports for the missed class must be submitted according to the syllabus of the course and no later than the following class attended by the student.

In an emergency, if the student is unable to contact the lecturer and mail the valid doctor's certificate or is being treated elsewhere, the lecturer must be informed by sending an email to the following email address: julius.rozenfeld@upjs.sk as soon as possible. In both cases, the student must also file a letter from a physician certifying the date and nature of the illness.

ABSENCE FOR OTHER REASONS

Students who must be absent for reasons other than illness, such as a death in the family or a reason of similar gravity, must contact the lecturer as soon as possible and submit relevant documents that certify the seriousness of the case.

There may be other activities which can validate missing a class or several classes, for example participation in high-quality international competitions, scientific research, conferences, or other relevant activities, which clearly contribute to the professional development of the student but final decision about the validity of the presented excuse fully falls in the lecturer's competency. Regular full-time or part-time employment is not an acceptable excuse for a missed class.

COVID-19 regulations:

Changing pandemic situation requires continuous adaptation. Online sessions organized via Microsoft Teams are the preferred alternative to in-person sessions if necessary. Attendance will be duly followed on online meetings too. Tests – if required for the completion of course – are also planned flexibly. Normally, the first credit test takes place during the 6th week of the term with a second credit test on the 12th week, but changes may apply. If necessary, these test dates can be changed according to the pandemic situation or replaced by online tests the form and content of which are comparable with a normal paper-based test. Students are required to follow the department's noticeboard and inform themselves continuously about the possible changes!

Learning outcomes:

The content of the course is designed to provide an overview of the structure, functioning and development of European political institutions, economic and social policies that form the area of European equality regimes. By completing the course, students will understand the definition of equality, have erudite knowledge and understanding of European anti-discrimination policies and the impact of these policies at national and regional level. They will be able to implement the acquired knowledge in the development and administration of projects, in consultations, or in the creation of similar national and transnational policies.

Brief outline of the course:

1. Introduction into European Studies, History and Institutions
2. Discrimination vs. Tolerance; Equality, Political Rights and Social Responsibility
3. Justice, Freedom and Security Policies in the EU
4. Employment, Social Affairs and Equal Opportunities Policies
5. Intersectionality of Multiple Inequalities

Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 6.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Continuous Assessment: 1. Attendance: Attendance is compulsory in both online and in-person classes. Each student is allowed 2 absences at most. Important information regarding the final evaluation and the course in general will be discussed during the introductory session, therefore, failing to attend the Week 1 introductory session is ALSO COUNTED AS AN ABSENCE. Not logging into an online class is COUNTED AS AN ABSENCE. More than two missed seminars will result in failing the course, irrespective of exam or essay results. Students must be on time for class. 2. Active participation (20 points): Students are required to do their best with respect to active participation in seminar sessions. Students are expected to bring their own ANNOTATED copies of the required materials, complete the assigned tasks and exercises (available on UPJS OneDrive/MS Teams and during the lessons) and participate in class discussions. Throughout the semester, students will be awarded points for actively participating in class discussions. Each student can earn up to 3 active participation points per seminar session. 3. Annotated bibliography (20 points): In Week 4 students will be asked to compile an annotated bibliography, overviewing the critical literature on a specific aspect of fandom or fan fiction. The bibliography will comprise of a minimum of 5 scholarly sources (books or academic journal articles) and a minimum of 600 words. The annotated bibliography will be compiled in class and must be handwritten. Bibliographies must conform to the guidelines of academic writing and must NOT be plagiarised. No part of the bibliography may be written by AI text generators. Using material produced by AI text generators will be considered plagiarism. Plagiarised papers will be awarded 0 points. Students will NOT be given the option of rewriting plagiarised papers. 4. Autoethnographic essay (60 points): Students will be asked to write an autoethnographic essay discussing their personal experience as a fan. Within the essay, students will attempt to place their personal experience into the context of the academic debate on fandom (fan studies). The essays may have a visual component. The essays will be submitted twice: a first draft (deadline: April 6, min 500 words, 15 points) and a final draft (deadline: Year 1 and 2 students: May 11, Year 3 students: April 23, 1000-1200 words, 45 points). Students will perform a peer review of each other's essays in Week 9. Details on the content and form of the essay will be provided during the course. The essays must conform to the guidelines of academic writing and must NOT be plagiarised. No part of the paper may be produced by AI text generators. Using material produced by AI text generators will be considered plagiarism. Plagiarised papers will be awarded 0 points. Students will NOT be given the option of rewriting plagiarised papers.

To pass the course, the SUM of all points (active participation + annotated bibliography + autoethnographic essay) must be no less than 65 points.

Learning outcomes:

Food is one of the few things we cannot live without. No wonder then that people across continents and throughout history have always talked and written about it. Food is by no means mere fuel that gives our body energy to conduct other, more important tasks. On the contrary, it is full of symbolic and cultural meanings, it is vital to our sense of identity, closely linked to gender roles, environmental issues, or politics. In addition, food is closely tied to pleasure and even to art. In this course, students will learn about these more abstract meanings associated with food: they will study the metaphorical, symbolic, and political roles of food. The course will focus on how food is presented in fictional, as well as non-fictional literary texts, and on how these texts reflect the social reality within which they were produced. Students will familiarize themselves with various genres of food writing, which they will critically analyse during the seminars. Moreover, students will be encouraged to situate and understand their own daily food consumption in a broader socio-cultural context.

Brief outline of the course:

WEEK 1: Introduction. Food studies - the basics of the field. Is there food in literature? Is there a literature of food? And why should I care?

WEEK 2: Food as a metaphor: a discussion of some literary classics

--> Reading: Gopnik, A.: "What's the Point of Food in Fiction?" In: The New Yorker.

WEEK 3: Food and identity: in literature and beyond

--> Reading: Gardner Burt, K. "Perspectives: Food and Identity" In: Food Studies: Matter, Meaning, Movement.

WEEK 4: Recipes as art, memory, politics: the personal manuscript cookbook

--> Reading: Theophano, J. "Introduction" to Eat My Words: Reading Women's Lives Through the Cookbooks They Wrote.

--> Extra materials: If you have your own (or your mum's or your nan's) personal manuscript cookbook and are willing to share, please bring it to class this week.

WEEK 5: Food memoirs: creating meaning through the senses

--> Reading: Waxman, B. F.: "Food Memoirs: What They Are, Why They Are Popular, and Why They Belong in the Literature Classroom"

WEEK 6: Food journalism as activism in a globalized food chain

--> Reading: Pollan, M. "Introduction: An Eater's Manifesto" In: In Defense of Food: An Eater's Manifesto.

WEEK 7: The contemporary foodie novel

--> Reading: H. Kashiwa "The Kamogawa Food Detectives"

– 1ST DRAFT OF SEMINAR PAPER DUE: MARCH 30
 WEEK 8: First draft peer review, food journals
 --> Extra materials: Please bring your printed out seminar paper drafts to class this week.
 WEEK 9: Food writing in the digital age: the paradoxes of the Instagram meal
 --> Reading: Walsh, M. J. “Clean eating and Instagram: purity, defilement, and the idealization of food” In: Food, Culture & Society.
 WEEK 10: TUTORIALS – NO CLASS – FINAL DRAFT OF ESSAY DUE: APRIL 20
 WEEK 11: Group discussion and final feast
 --> Extra materials: For our final session, feel free to bring any food and (non-alcoholic) drink you would like to share with your classmates. Discussions conducted around a table full of food are always the most fruitful (pun intended!).

Prerequisites: KAaA/FRAN1/07
Conditions for course completion: Two tests are intended for weeks 7 and 14. The tests will verify students' knowledge of materials covered during seminars and assigned for home preparation. In order to pass the course, the sum of the scores from the two tests must be at least 65%. There will not be any re-take tests. If a need arises to change the date of the test due to holiday or absence of a lecturer, the students will be informed well in advance through the official website of the Department/by email. Regular and active seminar attendance is required; more than two absences will make it impossible for the lecturer to assign a final grade. If a student is not prepared, he/she will be considered absent. Should the students fail to bring their own copy or a completed home assignment for a particular seminar, they will be asked to leave the classroom. Students shall respect their distribution into individual seminar groups. Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 3.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: This subject is assessed based on continuous assessment. The continuous assessment consists of five parts: active participation, reading journal, group presentation, AI essay review, and seminar paper. Details about the form and content of the reading journals will be discussed in the introductory meeting in Week 1 of the semester. All student papers must conform to the guidelines of academic writing and must NOT be plagiarised. No part of students' work may be produced by AI text generators/text editors. Using material produced by AI text generators/editors will be considered plagiarism. Plagiarised papers will be awarded 0 points. Students will NOT be given the option of rewriting plagiarised papers. To pass the course, the SUM of all points (active participation + reading journal + group presentation + AI essay review + seminar paper) must be no less than 65 points. Grading scale: Mark % A 93–100 B 86–92 C 78–85 D 72–77 E 65–71 FX 64-0
Learning outcomes: This course introduces to students a selection of texts from modern and contemporary Slovak literature with the aim of analysing the role of gender as a social category in these texts. The course is intended as a thematic and chronological continuation of the Slovak literature curriculum covered in standard high school courses. For this reason, the course focuses on 20th and 21st century literature and on texts by lesser known or non-canonical authors, with an emphasis on works by female authors. The course is designed to expand the students' theoretical knowledge in the field of literary studies and in the history of Slovak literature, but also to develop various practical skills: reading comprehension, textual analysis, or critical thinking skills.

Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT: 1. Seminar Attendance Seminar attendance in compulsory. Each student is allowed two absences at most. Not logging into an online class is COUNTED AS AN ABSENCE. Failing to attend the Week 1 introductory session is ALSO COUNTED AS AN ABSENCE. More than two missed seminars will result in failing the course, irrespective of exam or essay results. Students must be on time for class. 2. Seminar Readings and Worksheets Each student is required to have their own copies of seminar materials. Failing to do so will result in considering the student absent for the given seminar session. Students are required to read the respective seminar texts (available at UPJS OneDrive/MS Teams) BEFORE each seminar. In addition, students are required to fill in the seminar worksheets (available at UPJS OneDrive/MS Teams) BEFORE each seminar and bring them to class. If a student is unable to answer the questions from the worksheet, they will be considered absent for the given seminar session. 3. Evaluation (Test 1 - 40 points + Test 2 - 60 points) Students will be asked to sit two tests. The first test will amount to 40% of the continuous assessment and it will cover material studied in the first four seminars (Weeks 2-5), as well as the first 4 lecture topics (Anglo-Saxon literature, Medieval literature, Renaissance poetry and Renaissance drama). The second test will amount to 60% of the continuous assessment and it will cover ALL the material studied in the seminars and lectures (Week 2-Week 11), as well as COMPULSORY READING. Both tests will be held in person. 4. Active participation in the seminars (10 BONUS points) Students are expected to do their best with respect to active participation in seminar sessions, read the seminar texts and participate in in-class discussions. If a student actively participates in in-class discussions, they are eligible to earn a maximum of 10 bonus points towards their continuous assessment score. COMPULSORY STUDY MATERIALS : 1. LECTURE OUTLINES AND POWERPOINTS 2. TEXTBOOKS: John Peck and Martin Coyle, A Brief History of English Literature, Second edition, Bloomsbury 2013, chapters 1-9.

Course ID: KF/FMOPs/15	Course name: History of Philosophy (for Students of Psychology)
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 1.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Rating Conditions of continuous control and awarding of assessment: Active participation in teaching, the student has assignments during the semester - 2 assignments (Electronic subject bulletin board). During the semester, students take a knowledge test and a final knowledge test. If the teaching is carried out in a classical way - face-to-face form of teaching. In the case of the distance form of study, emphasis is placed on independent study and written processing of assignments (seminar work as a project for the entire semester, submission of partial outputs by the specified date. Electronic bulletin board). The condition for registering for the exam is to pass the final written test on the basic problems that are connected with the development of philosophical thinking from Thales to Nietzsche. Conditions for awarding the exam: only after successfully passing the knowledge test - the final test, the student can take the written exam. After its successful implementation, the student will receive credits for the subject.
Learning outcomes: Students will gain an understanding of the fundamental issues in the history of philosophy from Thales to Nietzsche. The discipline presents an overview of more specialized philosophical topics and works that influenced the development of disciplines such as psychology and social work. Students will acquire basic terminology from philosophy by studying source texts of periods of the history of philosophy in relation to the discipline of their field of study. The student acquires the ability for a deeper understanding of historical events, where the emphasis is placed on critical thinking with an emphasis on self-knowledge. The information is updated annually in the subject's electronic message board in AIS2 or in the MS Teams environment.

COURSE INFORMATION LETTER

University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KAaA/ INUS/21	Course name: Introduction to American Studies
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture / Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 1 / 1 Per study period: 14 / 14 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 3.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: To successfully complete the course, students are encouraged to perform well on two levels of assessment: continuous and final. Continuous assessment requires active participation and performance in each lesson, including participation in discussions based on reading required texts and watching assigned films. Students are expected not only to engage with individual texts/films but also to evaluate the author's message, recognize the potential implications of the text within historical contexts, identify different perspectives, and make inferences about the authors' messages. Students are also highly encouraged to challenge the arguments presented in the texts/films. Unprepared students who have not read/watched the assigned materials prior to each class will be marked as absent. Continuous assessment also includes two tests: the Mid-term test covering topics 1-5 and the End-of-term test covering topics 6-11. Each student must achieve a combined score of at least 65% to be eligible to take the Final exam. The final assessment is solely determined by the student's performance during the final in-person exam, which takes the form of a discussion on selected topics. To perform successfully, students will be asked to determine and define key concepts related to a chosen topic, relate these concepts to individual information sources, and synthesize the overall information. Students will be encouraged to communicate, organize, and synthesize information from various sources in order to fully support their arguments with clarity and depth. Students whose performance is deemed unsuccessful, indicated by fragmented or inappropriate communication of information from sources, will not complete the task and will not receive credits. The exam will take place during the designated exam period (Jan-Feb). Two retakes are allowed, with the most recent score always counting. The instructor will post the exam dates on the AIS platform at the beginning of December, and students will need to sign up for the exam well in advance through AIS. Any registration changes must be made at least 24 hours before the exam. Depending on the pandemic situation, the oral exam will be conducted either in contact classes or online. Students who fail to achieve the required minimum on the Mid-term and End-of-term tests have failed the course and will not proceed to the final exam. Attendance:

Students are expected to attend each class according to the schedule, including in the online environment. Transfers among groups are not allowed. If a student misses three or more classes, they will not receive credits for the course, regardless of their overall results.

The course is currently conducted in person; however, the format of individual classes may be subject to changes due to possible precautions resulting from the Covid-19 pandemic. If the pandemic situation changes, the course will continue in an online format via MS Teams for lectures and individual classes.

Exam Assessment Criteria:

Students are advised to consider the following evaluation criteria to assess their preparation for the Final exam. Students will be evaluated based on their ability to communicate and organize information from primary and secondary sources according to the following requirements:

A-B:

The student can effectively communicate and synthesize information from primary sources, explaining their relevance within the historical context with clarity and depth

C-D:

The student can communicate and organize information from the source but has not yet fully synthesized the acquired information with the historical context.

E:

The student communicates information from sources, but it is fragmented or used inappropriately (e.g., misquoted, taken out of context, or incorrectly paraphrased).

Fx:

The student cannot effectively communicate information from sources or communicates incorrect information.

The grading scale for this compulsory course for BASb, BASb (in comb.), AJEIEb, AJFJEIEb, and AJNJEIEb is:

A 93-100%

B 86-92%

C 78-85%

D 72-77%

E 65-71%

FX 64 and less

Learning outcomes:

The course serves as an introductory course for undergraduate students in American Studies, providing an overview of key themes that have shaped American culture since its discovery. We will delve into the perspectives of influential figures in American history, exploring how they conceptualize their nation through various mediums such as fiction, sermons, poetry, and film. These diverse writers and thinkers, representing different racial, ethnic, class, and gender backgrounds, will share narratives about pivotal moments in American history, encompassing both triumphs and shortcomings, as well as the connections between the past, present, and future.

The primary focus will be on reading a wide range of primary sources, including short pieces and selected excerpts from longer works, to develop a comprehensive understanding of American culture. Analyzing these primary sources and situating them within their historical context is crucial for gaining insights into individual perspectives. This approach helps students acquire information literacy skills and encourages them to evaluate the significance of selected chapters in relation to the topic, which are essential prerequisites for developing critical thinking skills.

The analysis of primary sources entails examining key arguments and assessing their relevance in comparison to historical contexts and the overviews provided by historians and thinkers in secondary sources. This analysis enables students to critically and comprehensively identify and describe pertinent information necessary for a thorough understanding of individual topics.

Additionally, it encourages students to question arguments, counter-arguments, and the viewpoints of individual authors, commentators, and interpreters. The contributions of these individuals to the understanding of various topics are historically considered crucial.

The course overview structures individual topics in a way that motivates students not only to explore the themes within their historical relevance but also to observe, assess, and analyze their implications for contemporary developments in American society. As a result, students should be able to consider the specific complexities of the discussed issues and, in addition to demonstrating their understanding, acknowledge the limitations of individual perspectives (historical, cultural, and political). They should also be able to synthesize historical evidence with the latest perspectives on various issues.

Each topic further encourages students to construct their own arguments based on informed evaluations of provided evidence, including opposing views. It also prompts them to define consequences and implications in order to draw meaningful conclusions.

Course ID: KAaA/ INLG/09	Course name: Introduction to Linguistics
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture / Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 1 / 1 Per study period: 14 / 14 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 4
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 1.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: The course consists of lectures and seminars. For both lectures and seminars (in any form), students are supposed to be present on time not to hinder the fluency of the teaching process. If a student fails to attend a lecture/seminar it is their duty to obtain the respective information from their colleagues. Students are not allowed to record either lectures or seminars. If the situation prevents us from the contact form of lectures, there will be a switch to the online form. In the case of the online form of lectures, the tutor of the course will create a meeting in MS Teams to which all students will be invited. The program of lectures will not change (see the table below). If any situation prevents conducting of the classes, students will be provided by supplementary material. They are required to read it with comprehension. Consequently, during the meeting mediated by MS Teams (on the day and at the time specified in the regular timetable) students can consult the reading material. Seminars are obligatory for all students. Students are expected to attend each class (in any form) prepared – it means, they read the text assigned for the respective week with comprehension. If the form of seminars is changed from the contact to the online form, the tutor of the course will open a meeting in MS Teams and the seminar will be conducted online without any change of the program. The program of individual seminars is specified in the table below. Summary of students' duties: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - to be prepared for each class and test - to have a university email address - to download the MS Teams application - to follow the notice board - to get the books specified as obligatory - to be in touch with colleagues in the case of missed classes - to join classes on time The assessment of the course consists of 2 parts: the continuous assessment and final evaluation. The continuous assessment for the AJEIE and BAScomb study programs consists of the following parts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - 10 short reading comprehension tests (10 minutes) before each seminar (50%). Each test is valued at 5%. Tests cover the topics of the seminars planned on the day of taking them.

- Participation in a research project (50%) will improve the quality of the student's practical knowledge of linguistic research. This way, the students will have priceless first-hand knowledge about carrying out linguistic research. The research project consists of 4 tests. Students are not graded for these tests, the completion of this part of the continuous assessment is based purely on participation. Failing to participate in even one test results in 0 participation in a research project score (which is 50% of the continuous assessment).

The minimum to pass is 65%. It is a condition for the final exam. Since it is a continuous assessment, there is no retake. In the case the students fail to achieve the required percentage in continuous assessment they will not be allowed to take part in the final exam test and they fail the course.

For the final evaluation, students are supposed to participate in an exam. The form of the exam (contact vs. online mediated by MS Teams) will be announced at the end of the semester.

Final evaluation grades: A 93 – 100; B 86 – 92; C 78 – 85; D 72 – 77; E 65 – 71; FX 64 and less.

In the case of the online form of any of the tests, students are expected to observe the following regulations:

Students are free to choose the preferred mobile equipment for this purpose (mobile phones, tablets, laptops, etc.) but they are responsible for the readiness of the device to be used (technicalities, charged device, etc.). The tutor of the course will make use of any available option to prevent students from cheating during the test. Any identified cheating attempt will result in 0 test score and the student will be reported to the management of the Department and the Faculty.

Students can take the final exam only if they pass the continuous assessment. The form of the final exam is oral.

Learning outcomes:

Aims and objectives: Mastering fundamental linguistic terminology, basic ideas, conceptions and approaches (Geneva school, Prague School of Linguistics, American descriptivism, Transformational and Generative Grammar), basic methods (synchronic, diachronic), development of language, language types, language levels.

Students are able to implement the gained knowledge into discussion on language. They are able to participate in a discussion on approaches to a linguistic sign and read linguistic texts with comprehension.

Brief outline of the course:

Due to the present situation, the tutor of the course reserves the right to change the test dates in exceptional cases. Students will be informed at least 24 hours prior to the change.

Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 3.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Attendance and Participation: You may miss two classes without penalty. You will fail the course if you miss more than two classes or are late more than three times. Hopefully, you'll be eager to come and eager to speak up in class. Covid will be treated just like any other illness. To be excused from class, you will need a doctor's note. Drafts, Deadlines, and Late Work: Throughout the course, I will encourage you to write multiple drafts of each paper. Writing multiple drafts will improve your writing and take some of the stress out of the final deadline. Ideally, you will have a first draft well before the deadline, so you should always be able to get something in on time. If a paper or draft is late, you may email it to me anytime, but I will reduce the grade by one letter per day. Hard copies are due in class on the day of the deadline. If you cannot attend class on a due date, the paper must be emailed before the start of the class. The final paper can be sent as an attachment or handed in during tutorials. You must complete all of the assignments in order to pass. AI generated material will not be accepted. Continuous Assessment: You will write two short papers and two longer ones. There may also be occasional quizzes. Assignment descriptions are posted on Teams. For each paper, I will break down your overall grade into four categories: Concept, Structure, Language, and Documentation. On your final paper, if you receive an FX in any one of these four categories, you will fail the course. There is no final exam. Papers may not be re-submitted. Paper 1 15% A 93-100% Paper 2 15% B 86-92% Paper 3 30% C 78-85% Paper 4 40% D 72-77% E 65-71%

COURSE INFORMATION LETTER

University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KAaA/ CONVb/15	Course name: Language Skills - Speaking
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Student evaluation is based on three criteria: CONTINUOUS PREPARATION 60%, ATTENDANCE 10%, and ACTIVE PARTICIPATION DURING THE LESSONS 30%. To receive credits for this course, students must: -continuously and timely submit video-recorded speeches on the actual topic of discussion, -attend each class according to the schedule (attendance is followed during the online sessions too), -actively participate in the discussions, i.e., speak up during the lessons. Ordinarily, student coursework is evaluated by letter grades, which are assigned a value based on a 100-point scale gained from the submitted video recordings plus points for attendance and active participation. The final mark is assigned according to the following scale: A 100-93 B 92-86 C 85-78 D 77-72 E 71-65 FX 64-0 CONTINUOUS PREPARATION constitutes 60% of the final mark. During the course, students are required to prepare video recorded speeches of different genre. Video-recorded speeches are marked according to the following scheme: 0/1/2 points for correct presentation of facts and research results, 0/1/2 points for correct use of academic vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation, 0/1/2 points for correct style, tone, register, and fluency. Explanation: Students are expected to prepare video recorded speeches for each class by reading and processing the study materials and the required literature presented in the course's SharePoint group. Formal requirements for the speeches: A one-minute speech usually contains 130 words. Students are required to prepare speeches which are minimum 260 and maximum 520 words long, i.e., 2-4 minutes. The speeches must be video recorded and sent via email to the rozenfeld.julius@atk.sk email address by Saturday 23:00 every week. No late submissions are accepted! Please DO NOT USE any other email address for submitting your speeches! Each video recording must be marked according to the following scheme: WeekX_Surname_Title.

The videos must be in HD quality, 720p, in 16:9 ratio, landscape oriented. Be careful to set up your microphone correctly! The sound recording must be DVD quality, 48kHz. No AI, simulation, or digital avatars are allowed! The videos must be the ORIGINAL work of the student.

Content requirements for the assignment:

Students must present their speeches without reading a script! No PowerPoint or any other presentation tool is required. The content of the speech must reflect the student's readings and research in the actual topic required for the given week. The content of the speech must be a synthesis of various sources (scientific journal articles, documentary films, etc.) in a clear and structured way: highlighting key information and data as well as presenting logical connections between the used data and resources. The submitted speech must represent the student's thorough understanding of the content and the problem area discussed in the reading assignment.

ATTENDANCE constitutes 10% of the final mark.

Students are required to attend each class during the term. Students are assigned 1 point for each class they attend in person.

ACTIVE PARTICIPATION DURING THE LESSONS constitutes 30% of the final mark.

Students will be called out to participate in discussions, argue, present opinions, or comment on other students' opinions during the lessons within the framework of the range of topics listed in this document. For active participation, students can collect maximum 3 points per lesson. The points will be assigned at the end of each lesson if the student speaks up at least 3 times during the lesson.

ABSENCE:

Students who must be absent for illness or reasons other than illness, such as a death in the family or a reason of similar gravity, must contact the lecturer as soon as possible and submit relevant documents that certify the seriousness of the case. The documentation should be scanned as a PDF file and sent via email to the regular institutional email of the teacher: julius.rozenfeld@upjs.sk.

There may be other activities which can validate missing a class or several classes, for example participation in high-quality international competitions, scientific research, conferences, or other relevant activities, which clearly contribute to the professional development of the student but final decision about the validity of the presented excuse fully falls in the lecturer's competency. Students must inform the lecturer about these activities too in a timely manner. Regular full-time or part-time employment is not an acceptable excuse for a missed class.

Pandemic regulations:

Changing pandemic situation requires continuous adaptation. Online sessions organized via Microsoft Teams are the preferred alternative to in-person sessions if necessary. Attendance will be duly followed on online meetings too. Students are required to follow the department's noticeboard and inform themselves continuously about the possible changes!

Learning outcomes:

This course focuses on the development of advanced speaking skills. The primary goal of the course is to prepare students for the successful defense of their bachelor's and master's theses. The course is designed to help students practice prepared formal speeches; spontaneously converse in a group and use academic English; learn the principles of intercultural communication; improve academic grammar together with pronunciation in spoken language; and develop vocabulary corresponding to the needs of academic debates. The course is aimed at developing and improving language skills at a higher level and increasing the language skills of students with a special focus on the use of academic language. The course introduces various academic topics, acquaints students with academic vocabulary and provides systematic practice of phrases and collocations. By completing the course, students will be able to actively lead a professional debate in English, give a speech to an academic audience and professionally and factually argue in a scientific and academic context.

COURSE INFORMATION LETTER

University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KAaA/ VOCAb/15	Course name: Language Skills - Vocabulary Development
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Continuous assessment: Students will be graded on active attendance and involvement, and two credit tests (in week 6 and week 12). Active participation, completed homework assignments - students are required to do their best with respect to active participation in seminar sessions. Being enrolled in the course means that you intend to positively take and finish the course. Students are expected to make their own copies of the required materials and complete the assigned tasks and exercises. Should you fail to have your own copy or a completed home assignment for a particular class, your presence will not count. Attendance: Students are expected to attend each class according to the schedule. No transfers among the groups are allowed. In case students miss three or more classes, also online, they will not receive credits for the course no matter what the overall results are. Final assessment: Credit tests - two credit tests (65% pass level) will take place in week 6 and week 12. There will be NO retake test for the students who failed one or more credit tests. The final grade will comprise the sum of gained points of both or more tests and the total sum must make minimum 65%. The credit tests will include vocabulary and exercises similar to those during the seminar sessions and home preparation. Final assessment: The final grade for the course will be based on the following grading scale. A 93-100% B 86-92% C 78-85% D 72-77% E 65-71% FX 64 and less
Learning outcomes: Aims and objectives: The main aim of this course is to develop and improve English vocabulary in the classroom with intermediate to upper-intermediate/advanced level students, and to increase their language competences with a special focus on some aspects of vocabulary learning. The course aims to help to learn new words and word combinations, functioning as meaningful units with a fixed or semi-fixed form (collocations, phrasal verbs, idioms), and to show that the words can play different roles in a text, and can express a variety of meanings. Contextually based learning is of great importance, and various sources are suggested.

Brief outline of the course:

The course introduces various interesting aspects of English vocabulary learning. It revises useful points of English vocabulary (word classes/families, multi-word units, homonyms, synonyms and antonyms, etc.), familiarizes students with the ways new words are coined, learned, and presented.

Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: 1. Attendance - students are expected to attend each class according to the schedule, also in the online environment. No transfers among the groups are allowed. Students are allowed to miss two classes at the most. Should they miss three or more classes, they will not receive credits for the course no matter what their overall results are on tests. Students must be on time for class or they will be marked as absent. 2. Active participation, completed homework assignments - students are required to do their best with respect to active participation in seminar sessions. They are expected to bring (have) their own copies of the required materials and complete the assigned tasks and exercises. Should they fail to bring (have) their own copy or a completed home assignment for a particular seminar, they will be marked as absent. Students are required to comply with the standard technical requirements of the department during the period of distance learning (as specified on the department website). 3. CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT – Language skills 2 (LS2) as a subject comprises 3 parts (1 - reading & speaking, 2 - listening , 3 - grammar) . Students will take 2 credit tests, presumably during tutorial weeks. The date of the test may change. All the three parts (reading & speaking, listening and grammar) of the subject will be included in the tests. At the end of the semester, within each part of LS2 separately, your partial scores will be calculated based on the results of partial credit tests. In order to pass one part of LS2, students need to score minimum pass mark as set for their study group. Final assessment and evaluation: The student will receive final credits when getting minimum pass mark as set for respective study groups for each of the three parts of LS2. In such case the final credits will be calculated as an average of all percentage results from all LS2 parts. If students fail one part of LS2, they fail the whole subject and cannot receive any credits. There will not be any re-take tests for those who failed to achieve the pass level. FINAL EVALUATION : Scale for BASb and BASb (komb), AJEIEb,: A 93-100% B 86-92% C 78-85%

D 72-77%

E 65-71%

Course ID: KAaA/ USMMb/15	Course name: Media in the USA - American Film
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 5.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: To successfully complete the course, students are encouraged to perform well on two levels of assessment: continuous and final. Continuous assessment requires active participation and performance in each lesson, including participation in discussions based on reading required texts and watching assigned films. However, students are expected to not only engage with individual texts/films but also to evaluate them, evaluate authors' messages, recognize the potential implications of the text within historical, cultural and social contexts, identify different perspectives, and make inferences about authors' messages in the form of a short written assignments prepared on a weekly basis. Students are also highly encouraged to challenge arguments presented in the texts/films. These assignments will be rewarded with 30% of the overall evaluation. Unprepared students who have not read/watched the assigned materials prior to each class will be marked as absent and their performance evaluated with an Fx. To complete the course, students must also successfully pass the essay-question test at the end of the course. The test comprises 70% of the final grade. Attendance: Students are expected to attend each class according to the schedule, which applies to online classes too. No transfers among the groups are allowed. Should students miss three or more classes, they will not receive credits for the course no matter what their overall results are. The course is currently conducted in person; however, the format of individual classes may be subject to changes due to possible precautions resulting from the Covid-19 pandemic. If the pandemic situation changes, the course will continue in an online format via MS Teams for lectures and individual classes. Assignment Assessment Criteria : Students are advised to consider the following evaluation criteria to assess their preparation for assignments. Students will be evaluated based on their ability to communicate and organize information from primary and secondary sources according to the following requirements: A-B The student can effectively communicate and synthesize information from primary sources, explaining their relevance within the historical context with clarity and depth C-D:

The student can communicate and organize information from the source but has not yet fully synthesized the acquired information with the historical context.

E:

The student communicates information from sources, but it is fragmented or used inappropriately (e.g., misquoted, taken out of context, or incorrectly paraphrased).

Fx:

The student cannot effectively communicate information from sources or communicates incorrect information.

Course content:

The course presents an overview of American cinema, focusing primarily on Hollywood production (both classic and contemporary). Covered topics include Hollywood style, film techniques, studio and star system, and the analysis of their relationship to society.

Aims and objectives:

The main objective of this course is to provide students with a set of information that will help them develop and/or improve essential analytical skills in interpreting contemporary American cinema.

The course will enable students to acquire knowledge of significant developments in American cinema, from silent films to the present-day cinema, and explore their connections with broader socio-historical context. It also attempts to increase students' appreciation of diverse styles and genres and help them recognize how some of the popular genres express social and cultural tensions.

One of the main aims of this course, however, is to enable students to question their role as passive spectators and increase their ability to watch films actively and critically.

Conditions for course completion: CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT: 1. Attendance: Attendance is compulsory in both online and in-person classes. Each student is allowed 2 absences at most. Important information regarding the final evaluation and the course in general will be discussed during the introductory session, therefore, failing to attend the Week 1 introductory session is ALSO COUNTED AS AN ABSENCE. Not logging into an online class is COUNTED AS AN ABSENCE. More than two missed seminars will result in failing the course, irrespective of exam or essay results. Students must be on time for class. 2. Active participation (20 points): Students are required to do their best with respect to active participation in seminar sessions. Students are expected to bring their own ANNOTATED copies of the required materials, complete the assigned tasks and exercises (available on UPJS OneDrive/MS Teams and during the lessons) and participate in class discussions. Throughout the semester, students will be awarded points for actively participating in class discussions during the seminars. Each student can earn up to 3 active participation points per seminar session. 3. Reading journal (30 points): Students are required to write two two-sided reading journal entries. The required length of each reading journal is 250-300 words. Each journal should relate to one of the texts discussed during the seminars. Detailed instruction for writing the reading journals will be provided during the introductory session. The journals must conform to the guidelines of academic writing and must NOT be plagiarised. No part of the journals may be produced by AI text generators/text editors. Using material produced by AI text generators/editors will be considered plagiarism. Learning outcomes:

This course aims at presenting the students with a new point of view on a topic as familiar as children's literature, and consequently attempts to encourage them to adopt a critical attitude towards all, even well-known and seemingly straightforward, areas of life. The course consists in analysing specific fairy tales and other texts falling under the category of "children's literature" in order to uncover the mechanisms which these texts employ to socialise children, reflect and/or influence family dynamics, construct identities, sustain traditional gender roles, or, on the contrary, deconstruct them.

Brief outline of the course:

SEMINARS OUTLINE:

WEEK 1: Introduction. Basic information: assessment, readings, etc. How to write a two-sided reading journal. Adults reading literature for children.

WEEK 2: What is "children's literature?" Basic notions, historical overview, and the problem of "the canon of children's literature."

--> Readings: Lesnik-Oberstein, K. "What is children's literature? What is childhood?"; Watkins, T. "The Setting of Children's Literature: History and Culture"

WEEK 3: "The Impossibility of Innocence:" ideology in children's literature.

--> Readings: "ideology"; "innocence"; Winnie-the-Pooh (A. A. Milne)

WEEK 4: Critical approaches to children's literature: psychoanalysis, reader response theory, feminism.

--> Readings: "aesthetics"; "gender"; "theory"; Snow White; The Bloody Chamber (Angela Carter)

WEEK 5: Fairy tales and gender roles: constructing an ideal femininity.

--> Readings: "body"; "girlhood"; "tomboy"; Sleeping Beauty; The Famous Five (Enid Blyton)

WEEK 6: Fairy tales and gender roles: boyhood and masculinity?

--> Readings: "boyhood"; "identity"; Tarzan (Edgar Rice Burroughs); Harry Potter (J. K. Rowling); Captain Underpants (Dav Pilkey)

WEEK 7: TUTORIALS - READING JOURNAL 1 DUE: OCTOBER 31

WEEK 8: Socialisation, family, education, and the purpose of children's literature.

--> Readings: "childhood"; "education"; Mrs. Piggle-Wiggle (Betty MacDonald), The Grimm brothers

WEEK 9: READING WEEK (Time to get a head start on the readings for the remainder of the semester)

WEEK 10: Children's literature and national identity.

Course ID: KAaA/ UKRGb/15	Course name: Regional Studies of Great Britain
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 6.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Regular Class Attendance Students are allowed to miss no more than 2 seminars for whatever reason. Please reserve these for when you are sick or have other serious reasons to be absent since you only have these 2 options and no more! Once you have missed more than 2 seminars, you will not be allowed to continue the course and take the exam. Should anyone come unprepared, he or she will be asked to leave and considered absent from the seminar. The same applies to failure to participate in class activities and discussion. • Presentation/leading discussion Each student will be given one topic for which they will have to prepare a short summary of the reading and questions for their colleagues to start a discussion. In addition to that, they will choose one of the research topics/questions that can be found at the end of each chapter and present their findings. This will require small research in press, television, etc. depending on each topic. Please do not hesitate to talk to your instructor about your presentation, after the seminar or during her office hours. This is not a topic for email communication. • Active participation in class Points for active participation will be awarded to actively taking part in class discussion and activities. • Panel Discussion During our last session, students will be asked to actively participate in a panel discussion covering all the topics and material assigned during the course of the semester and led by the instructor. Presentation – 35% Active participation – 30% Panel Discussion – 35% Grading policy: A 100-93% B 92-86% C 85-78% D 77-72% E 71-65% FX 64 and less Presentation – 35% Active participation – 30% Panel Discussion – 35% Grading policy: A 100-93% B 92-86% C 85-78% D 77-72% E 71-65% FX 64 and less Learning outcomes: Considering the fact that most of the courses take a rather anglocentric point of view, it is necessary to introduce other issues and make the students aware of regional diversity of Britain. A single course is not sufficient to cover such a broad topic, therefore, Regions of the UK focus on Scotland as one of the regions. By covering a variety of topics similar to those already known to students primarily from the Introduction to British Studies, this course shall try to elicit a discussion about similarities and differences, encouraging students to contribute their own findings and areas of interest.
