Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture / Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 1 / 1 Per study period: 14 / 14 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 5
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 2.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: The prerequisite for the grade in the course is active participation in class and obtaining a sufficient number of points for the interim assessment (activity in meetings, presentations) and the final assessment (the final semester-long written examination). The final grade for the course will be calculated based on the sum of the interim and final assessment scores. Final assessment: The final assessment will take the form of a written examination (max. 20 points; min. 12 points). The dates of the examinations will be announced in the academic information system in due course. Continuous assessment: Students will prepare a presentation (minimum 20 minutes) on a selected topic (max. 20 points) in pairs during the semester. Students are required to enter the topic of their presentation on the "Seminar Schedule" spreadsheet no later than 7 days after the introductory class. Presentation of the selected topic is a condition for the student's admission to the course examination. In the event that a student (or students) does not attend the seminar at which he/she is to present the selected topic, he/she is obliged to notify the course instructor and arrange a make-up session with the student whose presentation follows. In case of insufficient preparation of the presentation, the student will be given the task of reworking the assignment. Students will upload their presentation to the course LMS at least 72 hours (three days) prior to their deliverable. The student is allowed a maximum of two absences. In the event of more than two absences, the student will not meet the prerequisites for successful completion of the course. If the student has any attendance problems on his/her own initiative, he/she will contact the instructor with information about his/her absence. The course is taught primarily in a face-to-face format, supplemented by distance learning tools. Opportunity to earn points towards the grade for activity during class.
Learning outcomes: The aim of the course is to acquaint the student with the basic principles of the functioning of international organizations as an important actor of international relations. After completing the course, the student is able to describe the main theoretical approaches to the study of international organizations and interpret their functioning in the current processes taking place in the world political system.

Conditions for course completion: The prerequisite for a grade in the course is active participation in class and obtaining a sufficient number of points for the midterm assessment (activity in meetings, midterm reports) and the final assessment (final paper/policy brief). The final grade for the course will be calculated based on the sum of the midterm and final evaluation scores. The student is allowed a maximum of two absences. In the case of more than two absences, the student does not meet the requirements for successful completion of the course. In the event of any attendance problems, the student shall, on his/her own initiative, contact the lecturer with information about his/her absence. Opportunity to earn points toward the grade for activity during class. Final Evaluation: The final grade will be based on a seminar paper (policy brief) that students will turn in at the end of the semester (max. 20 points; min. 12 points). The submission of the seminar paper is a prerequisite for the student's admission to the course examination. The seminar paper should be 10 to 15 pages in length and should meet the formal requirements of an academic thesis. In addition to describing the issues, it will also analyse them and provide a set of recommendations, with an emphasis on the level of good and bad practices. The structure and details should correspond to the form of a policy brief. Interim evaluation: Students will prepare short (2-page) reports on a selected factor in international political relations for meetings during the semester (max. 20 points). Ongoing preparation and presentation of reports (five reports total during the semester) is a prerequisite for the student's admission to the course exam. Students are also required to study the assigned texts during the semester for the seminar colloquia. Summative Assessment: A/ 40 - 38 points B/ 37-34 points C/ 33 - 30 points D/ 29 - 27 points E/ 26 - 24 points FX/ less than 24 points
Learning outcomes: Acquisition of knowledge of the underlying foundations of the study and practice of foreign policy. Upon completion of the course, the student should be able to explain and interpret the theoretical concepts of foreign policy analysis, including aspects influencing the processes of foreign policy making. He/she should also be able to distinguish between the analytical levels of foreign policy, with an emphasis on the decision-making process of individual actors. The student should be able to predict the influence of internal and external factors on the foreign policy of a state.
Brief outline of the course:

1. Foreign policy study and analysis (semantics, methods, tools and case studies) 2. Analysis of the foreign policy-making process: actors and decision-making 3. Levels of foreign policy analysis 4. Individual and group decision-making 5. Dynamics between domestic and foreign policy (domestic policy attributes affecting foreign policy) 6. Impact of bureaucracy on foreign policy 7. Impact of social factors (public opinion, media, interest groups, experts) on foreign policy 8. Impact of culture and national identity on foreign policy 9. New approaches to foreign policy analysis 10. Foreign policy and new challenges

Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Záverečné hodnotenie: Písomná skúška (max. 40 b.; min. 25 b.). Priebežné hodnotenie: Jedenkrát počas semestra (podľa Harmonogramu) študent pripraví 20-30 minútovú prezentáciu pre spolužiakov (max. 10 b.), semestrálnu prácu o rozsahu minimálne 10 strán (15 b.) a body (5 b) môže získať aj za aktivitu. Tému svojej semestrálnej práce je študent povinný zapísať do tabuľky "Harmonogram seminárov" najneskôr 7 dní od úvodnej hodiny. Absolvovanie priebežného hodnotenia je podmienkou pripustenia študenta ku skúške z predmetu. V prípade, že sa študent nezúčastní seminára, na ktorom má prezentovať vybranú tému, je povinný oznámiť túto skutočnosť vyučujúcim predmetu a dohodnúť náhradné plnenie so študentmi v študijnej skupine, ktorých prezentácia nasleduje (viď. Harmonogram). Možnosť získať body do hodnotenia za aktivitu počas vyučovania a bonusových úloh. Študent má povolené maximálne 2 absencie. Pri prezentáciách sa bude zohľadňovať i celkové vystupovanie a forma prezentácie, ktorá by sa mala priblížiť prednáškovému výstupu po formálnej i obsahovej stránke. Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture / Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 / 1 Per study period: 28 / 14 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 5
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 3.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Active participation in the classes and obtaining a sufficient number of points for the mid-term and final evaluation are the prerequisites for the award of credits from the course. The final grade for the course is calculated on the basis of the sum of the points of the midterm and final assessments. The following are prerequisites for the award of credits and grades: - the completion and presentation of a term-long paper and a final test (of which at least 60% must be obtained). - At least 51 % of the total number of points must be achieved in order to pass the course - activity in class/seminars in the form of active work in seminars, for which points can be earned The student is entitled to 2 make-up attempts on the final test. The student is entitled to a maximum of 2 absences. FINAL EVALUATION: A ... 100,00% - 91,00% B ... 90,99% - 81,00% C ... 80,99% - 71,00% D ... 70,99% - 61,00% E ... 60,99% - 51,00% FX ... 50.99% and less. The course is taught primarily in a face-to-face format, supplemented by distance learning tools.
Learning outcomes: The aim of the course is to present students with a cross-sectional picture of the development of ideas and concepts in the field of political institutions (administration and bureaucracy). The starting point is an in-depth analysis of the nature of bureaucratic organizational systems - positive and problematic features. The "unintended" consequences of bureaucracy, as a form of critique by prominent authors, are analyzed in different contexts and in the light of current trends towards the creation of specific organizational systems that correct the undesirable aspects of bureaucracy. Objectives: Development of knowledge: knowledge of the nature and importance of political institutions for the functioning of the state and society. Development of skills and abilities: Ability to orient oneself to the problems of political institutions and their functioning through administration and the ability to find the irrational aspects of bureaucracy. Ability to point out the negative dehumanising aspects of bureaucracy and to propose solutions.

Brief outline of the course: -Introduction to the subject -Organisation in society, institutions -Subjects of the political system -citizen, political parties, political movements, interest/pressure/ lobby groups, mass media, state -Classical period of sociology -organization, M. University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KPO/ BPS/25	Course name: State Security Policy
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Lecture / Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 / 1 Per study period: 28 / 14 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 4
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 5.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: The prerequisite for the grade in the course is active participation in class and obtaining a sufficient number of points for the continuous assessment (activity in meetings, presentation/analysis) and the final assessment (final semester-long written examination). The final grade for the course will be calculated based on the sum of the scores of the continuous assessment and the final assessment. The student is allowed a maximum of two absences. In the case of more than two absences, the student does not meet the requirements for successful completion of the course. In the event of any attendance problems, the student shall, on his/her own initiative, contact the instructor with information about his/her absence. The course is taught primarily in a face-to-face format, supplemented by distance learning tools. Opportunity to earn points towards the grade for activity during class. Final assessment: Written exam (max. 25 pts.; min. 13 pts.). Continuous assessment: Once during the semester (according to the Schedule), the student will prepare a 25-minute presentation for classmates (max. 10 pts.) The topic of his/her presentation is required to be entered by the student in the "Seminar Schedule" table no later than 7 days after the introductory class. The presentation will be thematically related to the analysis of the security strategy of the selected state, through which the student will also make his/her own assessment of the current situation, the potential development of security in the given area, its comparison with selected states and current shortcomings. In the second half of the semester, the student will also write in the schedule and prepare in pairs a 10-minute security briefing on the assessment of the selected sphere of security in the Slovak Republic (max. 5 pts) Passing the mid-term assessment is a condition for the student to be admitted to the course examination. In case the student does not attend the seminar at which he/she is to present the selected topic, he/she is obliged to notify the course lecturers of this fact and to arrange a substitute with the students in the study group whose presentation follows (see the timetable). Opportunity to earn points towards the grade for activity during class and bonus assignments. Student is allowed a maximum of 2 absences. Presentations will also take into account the overall presentation and the form of the presentation, which should approximate the lecture output in form and content.

Summative assessment:

A: 40-38; B: 37-34; C: 33-30; D: 29-27; E: 26-24; FX: less than 24

Learning outcomes:

To introduce students to the past, present and future security policy of the state as a phenomenon and subject of international law. After the course, the student should be able to orient himself/herself in the theoretical background and terminological reality of the theory and practice of security policy issues.

Understand and critically apply professional terminology to practice. Further, acquire the ability to adequately argue and apply the acquired knowledge in the formation of attitudes to current security issues in relation to the Slovak Republic and vice versa. Students will learn to define security policy and theories of security, identify security threats and risks, analyze security strategies and address security problems and risks.

Brief outline of the course:

1. Introduction to the issue of state security policy, basic concepts and definitions;
2. The state as a dominant actor in international relations and state security strategy;
3. Security measures and objectives;
4. National security strategy and security threat analysis;
5. Security and diplomacy, ethical dilemmas in security;
