COURSE INFORMATION LETTER

University: P. J. Šafárik University in Košice
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: KSSFaK/LFT/07	Course name: Literature in Film and Television
Course type, scope and the method: Course type: Practice Recommended course-load (hours): Per week: 2 Per study period: 28 Course method: present
Number of ECTS credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester of the course: 5.
Course level: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for course completion: Participation in classes in accordance with the study regulations and according to the instructor's instructions. (2 absences without compensation or 3 with compensation are permitted; 1 seminar paper required). Activity during the seminar. Oral presentation on a selected topic of adaptation or an adaptive phenomenon (5–10 minutes). Analysis of adaptation or an adaptive phenomenon (3–6 standard pages). Fulfillment of the assessment requirements at an overall level of at least 60%. Ongoing communication within the course takes place in the course group in the MS Teams application.
Learning outcomes: Knowledge: During continuous and final assessment, the student demonstrates an adequate mastery of the course content standard defined by the required literature, and demonstrates mastery of the performance standard, within which the student, after completing the course, is able to pose problem-oriented questions (i.e., formulate scientific problems) arising from the essence of the adaptation process, in which artistic products are created within complex intertextual relationships. Skills: The student will be able to perceive adaptations not only within the extended logocentric metaphor of intersemiotic translation, but also in newer contexts of adaptation as appropriation or revision. Professional competencies: The student will master basic adaptation theory models, the knowledge of which will help them identify adaptations within the broader concept of repetition theory. They will be able to use diverse motivational forms of teaching literature more effectively without disproportionately replacing literary theory with film theory. They will be better able to prepare/evaluate a screenplay of an adapted work. Transferable competencies: The student will be able to apply acquired knowledge in various situations and, when working with primary and secondary sources, will be able to use, verify, and interpret acquired knowledge in a methodologically and ethically sound manner, structure the results of their study, and formulate their own conclusions.
Brief outline of the course:

Genological starting points in defining a literary text: lyrical, epic, and dramatic. The overlap of genre categories into film form. The issue of film adaptations of literary works.
